KEROSENE USERS URGED TO SAVE FUEL

Kerosene users—including everybody who uses kerosene for heating, lighting or cooking—are urged to be as saving of their fuel as possible. There is a shortage of kerosene which is likely to become acute with the approach of the heating season.

It is equally important that users of kerosene, or any other fuel oil, order their supplies now, although they may not be delivered for some time. Next winter there will be a shortage of delivery trucks and truck drivers. If customers will place their orders now, dealers can schedule deliveries throughout the fall months. By ordering early, the customer can be assured of having sufficient fuel oil on hand when the first cold spell comes.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

Sealing the cracks between doors and windows and their frames alone may save as much as 25 per cent of your furnace heat. Felt weatherstripping, the easiest type to find in the store in wartime, is easily attached to the inside of the frame by small tacks or brads spaced several inches apart. If there is space between door and threshold, a strip of felt tacked under the door will keep winter winds from coming through. A badly worn threshold should be replaced.

For wall and roof insulation there are mineral wools, granulated or compressed cork, expanded mica, chemically treated fiber material, and insulating fiber boards. Whichever type of insulating material you select, it is important to follow the manufacturer's directions in applying it.

Don't Blame Bureaucrat

BL HATTON W. SUMMERS

Distinguished Member of House of Representatives from Texas

We all believe in democracy—democracy operated through representative government. Why is it, then, that in a land where everybody proclaims his devotion to it, representative government is withering before our eyes?

The bureaucrat is blamed for this. But he is not the cause. He is the effect. The seat of the trouble lies far deeper.

Our whole political system is based on the principle of local self-government. But two forces have been destroying this principle. One is the demand of the people for the federal government to intervene in problems of every community and every class. The other is the ever-growing practice of passing all these problems on to the government in Washington. The last war gave this a big push. The postwar dislocation hurried it. The Great Depression raised it to avalanche proportions. The present war is completing the job. Every town and state, every trade association and trade union, every class and group and desperate minority brings its problems to Washington. And Washington is gladly accepting that responsibility.

But Congress is made up solely of mere human beings. And Nature has not endowed any group of human beings with the sweep and grasp of intelligence necessary to handle the multitude of federal and local problems dumped upon Washington.

Not being able to handle the impossible burden itself, Congress of necessity creates bureaus and passes on the overload to the bureaucrats. By bureaucrats are meant the government employees once called "civil servants" because they were employed to "serve" the government and execute the laws of Congress. I refer to the bureau chief and his squadrons of counselors and economists and specialists. I am not criticizing them but the system.

They issue what are called "directives," which actually have the force of law. One bureaucrat in the Securities and Exchange Commission said recently: "We do make the law. This order supersedes any laws opposed to it." Actually the bulk of what in effect are our general laws are now being made not by Congress but by bureaucrats.

This is not a new thing. It was under way 30 years ago when I entered Congress. I made a speech in the House warning of it in 1923 and again in 1932. I am not discussing the concentration of federal power which has been made in order to fight the war. The present picture is merely the natural development of our policies over several decades. It is a procedure as old as tyranny. But it cannot exist in a democracy, because where it exists government inevitably ceases to be a democracy.

The essence of democracy is that laws shall be enacted by representatives of the people, and that all sides have a hearing. But laws enacted by bureaucrats are fashioned behind closed doors. The real author is not known to the people. He is appointed, not elected. Generally the first the public knows of his directives is when they are proclaimed. The law, once thus announced, is subject to frequent and sometimes capricious amendment. The bureau enacts it, enforces it and sits as judge in interpreting it. Now these imperial bureaus are provided with tribunals equipped as courts and recognize a multitudinous bar which practices before them.

It is not easy to get a law passed by Congress. But the bureaucrat can toss off a directive while you wait. The very facility with which he legislates encourages the multiplicity of laws. The fact that he does not have to face a constituency makes him irresponsible to the people in the performance of this, the highest function of sovereignty.

The promoters of centralization are more and more resorting to

$25,000 Option On New Ocean Casino

Frank Shean and Horace Bluford Possible Operators

The New Casino at 15th street will possibly be under new management for the coming season of 1944. Frank D. Shean, manager of Seaside Park for the past season, and Horace Bluford, have an option for $25,000 on the casino at the south end of the beach. This option is good until March 1, 1944. Plans for its operation have not been perfected as yet but under the new set up residents of the south end of the beach may well look forward to a good season of excellent entertainment.

Va. Beach Resident To Conduct New Radio Program

E. N. MacWilliams Host For Tum Program Each Saturday Evening

After several years retirement from radio work, E. N. (Jim) MacWilliams, a resident of Virginia Beach for many years, has returned to the airways to conduct a program once a week for Tum. The new program is called, "Correction Please" and will be heard each Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. over C. B. S. Program Director for the U.S.O. club in Norfolk, Mr. MacWilliams feels that his weekly trips to New York will enable him to keep in close touch with available good shows and programs to bring to Norfolk for the entertainment of the servicemen and that the radio work will in no way hinder his planned service to the U.S.O.

Virginia Beach Chaplain Holds Unusual Services

Lieut. Lonnie W. Meachum with the Marines in the South Pacific

Somewhere in the South Pacific—(Delayed)—The scout and sniper school here was all set last Sunday for this unit's chaplain, Lieutenant Lonnie W. Meachum, USN, Chaplains Corps, of 2405 Balboa Avenue, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Marines chose a hilltop for the chaplain's portable altar; they leveled off a space for the altar, built steps to it, and made a background of evergreens. Then they made a fatal mistake. They placed the congregation to windward.

"I had to compete with a 40-mile an hour wind blowing right in my face," said the chaplain, "but I reached down deep and let them have it. Afterwards the men in the back said they could hear me plainly."

Recently Chaplain Meachum conducted another unique service stated in a radio jeep, speaking into a hand microphone. He relayed a 10-minute service to his Marine unit bivouaced in the field. This service was his own idea and perhaps for the first time such a service had been transmitted to men in the field.

Grass Fire Starts Blaze at Seaside Park

$500 Damage to Beach Equipment

Burning grass in an adjacent lot set fire to one of the buildings at Seaside Park on Friday morning, September 24th. All activities had closed and the buildings boarded up for the winter.

The fire burned through the building used by T. J. Long, to store umbrellas and other beach paraphernalia. An immediate response to fire call brought the fire department to the scene and soon had the blaze under control.

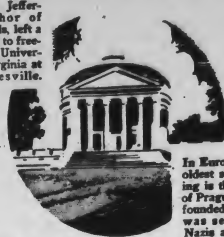

According to reports the estimated damage was about $500.

Prepare Now for Better 1944 Victory Garden

Clean Up Garden in Fall—Make Own Compost Bed

Cleaning up old stalks, fruits, and leaves promptly in the fall will reduce the number of troublesome garden insects that plague most gardeners, according to E. K. Vaughan, plant pathologist of the Virginia Agricultural Extension Division.

The harlequin cabbage bug, cucumber beetle, Mexican bean beetle, and other insects hibernating in or under plant parts that are left on top of the soil, Vaughan points out. The germs that cause some of the common plant diseases also live overwinter in old stems, leaves and fruits.

By getting rid of such garden trash, gardeners can kill these pests or deprive them of their winter quarters. As a result fewer insects and disease germs will be waiting to start work on plant next season.

Asserting that much garden refuse can be saved for compost, the plant pathologist emphasizes that such compost piles should include only refuse which is reasonably free from disease. He suggests that a thin covering of fertilizer should be added to each layer of material.

New Theatre for Beach

Crockett and Pender to Build New Motion Picture House on 25th and Atlantic

W. F. Crockett of Virginia Beach and David Pender of Norfolk, owners and operators of the two theaters at the Beach, have let the contract for a third theater to be built on the north corner of 25th Street and Atlantic Ave. The new building will cost approximately $150,000. The property was purchased at a cost of $25,000.

With a seating capacity of about 1200, which is one-third larger than either of the theaters now on the beach, the new motion picture house will be built with every consideration given to the comfort and pleasure of its patrons, and modern throughout in design.

Vernon A. Moore of Norfolk, is architect and the associate is Bud Rudin of Richmond. The plans have been submitted to the War Production Board and it now remains to be seen what action will be taken in regard to necessary materials and equipment. If the priorities on building materials are obtainable it is hoped that the theater will be opened next spring. The building will be constructed to contain store space and bachelor apartments.

Fire Prevention Week October 3-9

Great Need in This Community to Eliminate All Fire Hazards

4-H Clubs Active in Fire Prevention Work

Fire Prevention Week throughout the nation has been proclaimed by President Roosevelt to meet the alarming increases in the country's preventable fire losses. With wartime urgency, the President appealed to the people of the country to take unusually active measures to conserve human and material resources so necessary to the successful prosecution of the war.

He called on state and local governments, all business and labor organizations, the pulpit, educators, civic groups, press, radio and other groups to initiate programs that will vividly bring home to all our people the dangers of fires and the methods of controlling them. He also directed that the Office of Civilian Defense, Department of Agriculture, War Production Board, protective services of the War and Navy Departments and other appropriate federal agencies lend their active support and assistance to obtaining the objectives of his proclamation.

The week of October 3 to 9 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week.

Every state in the Union and every community must make a concerted effort to lessen fire hazards. We, in a community where so much war activity exists, have need of extra vigilance and alertness. Our property and resources, so vital to the war effort.

As Others See It

WORST DOES NOT COME

(Peninsula Enterprise)

There is an old joke about the gloomy people who keep saying in effect, "Cheer up, for the worst is yet to come." The American people have received many warnings of the discomforts and sufferings that may come. Yet so far the reality has not been so bad.

There is real suffering that comes through anxiety about the men at the war fronts. Still, there is the thought that life in peace time usually has its anxieties.

Food shortages are inconvenient. It is not pleasant to stand in line because of shortage of help or supplies. Perhaps, if people would make more changes in their customary menus, they would get things quicker. Anyway the health of the American people does not seem to suffer on the whole. Probably some of them are better off because they stay at home more and get more sleep.

Shortages of household articles create inconvenience. But when you see how finely the home is equipped compared with the things our grandparents used to have, they seem plenty comfortable. Not many of us lack warm garments for winter.

Shortage of gasoline creates inconvenience, but people have better health from walking more. Some families in northern sections suffer because of difficulty in getting fuel. Yet our people show such ingenuity in getting around difficulties, that the total of suffering is less than expected. The people have a right to complain when conditions can be improved. As a rule the people seem cheerful as they talk over their experiences. The people of the war torn countries would say our situation is far happier than theirs.

PREWAR SNAPSHOTS

(Winchester Evening Star)

A few days ago the New York Times called attention in its editorial columns to the importance of tourist snapshots taken in time of peace when prosperous Americans thought nothing of a round-the-world cruise. These photographs have become valuable in time of war as aids to the military in its quest of weak spots in enemy defense.

The British government has a tremendous collection of these snapshots, 5,000,000 in all, taken by tourists in the good old days before frontiers were closed and cameras taboo. It is unnecessary to point out that English experts are not interested in these pictures for sentimental reasons. For they are interested in the personalities portrayed. They are looking primarily at foreground, background and middle distance, noting road conditions, shore lines, railroad stations, harbor facilities, airports and other photographic evidence useful to the military mind.

Col. William J. Donovan, speaking for the Office of Strategic Services, has asked the American public to help with an American collection similar to the one the British have amassed. Those who have cameras in hand, through axis nations or through countries now under axis domination, may have something useful to offer in that album now packed away in the attic.

Peacetime wanderers in the Pacific may be unwittingly hoarding valuable pictorial data. What was just a picture of Aunt Emma and Uncle Jim looking rather foolish on a Pacific beach, may be the equivalent of so much dynamite for the Japs.

So it behooves erstwhile travelers to remember that Uncle Sam may profit handsomely from a careful study of those snapshots which were carelessly and casually taken in that other world before the war began. Perhaps it isn't necessary to add that pictures of Japanese defenses are extremely rare—and much sought.

PRICES SET FOR DRY BEANS

Sales of dry edible beans, 1943 crop, to the Food Distribution Administration, to other country shippers, and to other governmental agencies designated in Food Distribution Order No. 45 can be made at either of two sets of prices—maximum prices established for the commodity, or support prices set for specified classes. First April by the War Food Administration. OPA emphasizes that all of our sales must be at or below maximum prices.

It is never safe to clean with gasoline, benzene, naphtha or any inflammable liquid at home.

NATIONAL NEWS OF NOTE

BEFORE THE WHEELS OF PEACE TURN

Much is heard of the production achievements obtained by this country during the war. It is taken for granted that after the war these achievements will automatically be turned to the benefit of civilian consumers. However, just as great production of armaments is in itself no guarantee that adequate supplies will reach the men at the front, so the ability to produce a tremendous volume of peacetime goods is a far cry from placing those goods in the hands of 130,000,000 consumers.

As the time approaches for industry to begin rolling out the implements of peace, some consideration must be given to the lines of supply through which consumers are served. The retail distribution industry at present is spending most of its time filling out government blanks and trying to interpret endless official orders. Governmental agencies have urged the housewife to spy on retailers, the implication being that they are trying to break down the price bulwark so carefully constructed by the authorities to protect her against inflation. She is not told that the bulwark will stand only so long as the distribution industry can exist under it and support it. More than a million retailers, chain and independent, spend long hours every day trying to make the rules fit hard economic reality. When an official publicity bureau in Washington points the finger of suspicion at their endeavors, it is about as sensible as a man driving off the firemen who are attempting to save his blazing home.

The sooner retailers are given a chance to do something besides answer questions, the sooner they can begin turning attention to the formidable task of placing the orders which must cross the desks of manufacturers before the wheels of peace can turn again.

DON'T TAKE WHOLE POUND OF FLESH

Everyone knows that this nation must collect taxes—heavier taxes than any individual ever dreamed of. But an increasing number of public officials are awakening to the fact that the tax load on business can be made so heavy that it will actually kill that source of tax revenue, and in so doing destroy the jobs which provide the wages and salaries that, in turn, pay the billions in personal income taxes.

Representative A. Willis Robertson, Democrat, Virginia, member of the tax framing House Ways and Means Committee, says: "The best incentive throughout the ages to increased production is the profit incentive."

"The best assurance for employment for returning soldiers will be in private industry and in continuing the private enterprise system. That factor cannot be safely overlooked in the framing of income tax rates for corporations, because the government has no present plans to finance the conversion from war production to peacetime production."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has indicated that military authorities have interested themselves in the new tax program because they want tax levies kept low enough to preserve production incentives.

That the reasoning of Representative Robertson and the military authorities is sound, can be proved by every individual to his own satisfaction by asking himself the simple question: "Would I carry on, or could I carry on under a taxation program that leaves me little or nothing but a tax receipt at the end of a year's work? That is a point that every member of Congress will have to consider in connection with individual and corporate taxation in the future because the two are inseparable, for the earnings of each are the basis of production, expansion and steady employment."

OUR INVISIBLE MEN

Using Dr. Forest Moulton's equation that one kilowatt-hour of electricity is equal to 10 man-hours of labor, the report of electric war-time America had last year the services of about 600,000,000 invisible "men"—not subject to the direct orders of about 600,000 John L. Lewis or other overlords of two-legged men. This compares to 150,000,000 invisible "men" available in World War I.

The annual report on physical performance of the electric power industry certainly reads in agreeable contrast to the lugubrious talk we have been hearing from some quarters since the New Deal took out after the "Power Trust," and enacted the holding company law and set up the SEC.

The much-touted "Power Trust"—or rather, the privately owned utility companies—is doing the bulk of the war job. Despite the hundreds of millions spent since TVA was established on government power plants and districts, the private outfits have five times the generating capacity of the governmental power districts, and last year generated 137,865,800 kilowatt-hours of electricity compared to 19,732,900 generated by TVA, Bonneville, Grand Coulee and the other government power outfits, big and little. —Chicago Daily News, June 24, 1943.

DEATH THAT CAN'T BE PAID

A characteristic of the jungle fighting in the Southwest Pacific is the high proportion of nonfatal wounds. Japanese snipers fortunately are poor shots. Equally fortunately for our men in that area, there are plenty of highly trained medical men to care for wounds immediately. If it were not for this on-the-spot medical service, the horror of infection and death would become almost unbearable. Reporting on the heroism of the Army doctors, a news dispatch from Munda states: "It is a heart-warming experience to watch the young surgeons working night and day, ministering to the wounded Americans in the gloomy depths of the New Georgia jungle. The main responsibility for saving lives rests with them. . . . It has been the aim of the medical corps in this campaign to give every wounded man preliminary treatment within a few minutes after he has been hit. . . . The Corps does its job with the bullets and shrapnel still flying."

These are the same doctors that a year or so ago were striving to build careers for themselves at home. Most of them have families and all of them spent long years of study and privation preparing to practice medicine. They carry with them into battle a wealth of knowledge and the best traditions of the American medical profession.

The parents, wives and sweethearts of the men in service owe the military doctors a debt of gratitude they can never hope to repay.

SAVE YOUR COAL AND OIL

Managers are very uncertain at the portals of coal mines and Administration of Fuels laments that there have recently been declines in mining of both anthracite and bituminous coal, and he reiterated warnings about the necessity of conserving fuel. The coal strike drags along on its weary way.

Oil and gasoline are also on the Ickes shortage lists and there is no telling just how much some families may shiver the coming winter in case the shortages of former cold weather are to be repeated.

Some of our Government Administrators would do themselves and their country a lot of good if they would turn back to that old philosophy: "The thing that can't be done is generally interrupted by the man who does it."

Fire Prevention

It must be guarded and all fire hazards eliminated.

How to Prevent Fires

Every home should be examined to be sure that flues and chimneys, roofs, stoves, attics, store rooms, basements, lamps and lanterns, electrical connections and the like are safe from the fire. Outbuildings, fields and forests should also be checked for fire hazards.

In proclaiming next week as Fire Prevention Week, President Roosevelt has made an earnest request of the American people to take active measures to conserve our human material resources.

The destruction caused by fire in the United States since Pearl Harbor has been comparable to the damage caused by all enemy bombs over England during the

A Substitute for Hell

Somewhere in New Guinea these wounded soldiers await evacuation. Flat on their backs, in the steaming heat of the jungle, where mosquitoes plague the air and ants and mosquitoes torment weary bodies, they dream of home . . . of clean white sheets and the touch of cool, comforting hands. 4 H's to Take Active Part

Through their National Farm Safety program practically all 4-H club members have many aims and objectives to impress others to become safety conscious to locate fire hazards and correct them. The youthful workers have made big strides in carrying out these objectives since the activity's inception last January, by giving talks, demonstrations and playlets on accident and fire prevention at local meetings, by inspecting home premises for accident and fire hazards, and conducting community-wide safety campaigns.

In view of the importance of farm and forest products to the war effort, farmers have added incentive for eliminating all possible fire hazards.

Chaplain Meachum

Chaplain Meachum accompanied this unit on a recent field problem and for five days marched step for step with his men and for four nights slept under his side of a shelterhalf.

After covering some 30 miles on Sunday the chaplain was as tired and footsore as many others. But it was a Sunday, and although the outfit was widely separated, he still wished to hold services for everyone.

With the communications officer, Maj. Ralph M. Wimer, USMC, of 355 West Green street, Decatur, Ill., Chaplain Meachum worked out all the details. Col. Julian N. Friable, USMC, of 176 Levon Drive, Clearwater, Fla., the commander, then gave his enthusiastic approval.

"It seemed to me to be a good idea," said the chaplain, "that the rites be used for spiritual intercommunication as well as physical intercommunication."

Formerly pastor of the First Baptist church at Virginia Beach, Lieutenant Meachum was commissioned in the Navy Chaplains Corps March 3, 1941. He has served at the Naval Operating Base, Norfolk, Va.; the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., and the Marine Barracks at Parris Island, S. C. Assigned to the Fleet Marine Force he recently came here.

The chaplain attended Batesville, Ark., High school; Ouchita Baptist College, Arkadelphia, Ark.

and the Southern Baptist Seminary,

Louisville, Ky. He holds a master of theology degree and is a member of the Phi Kappa Delta, national forensics society. His wife and three children—Carolyn Virginia, eight; William Owen, six, and Charles David, four—are living at Virginia Beach.

Every day in the United States 16 people are burned to death in dwelling fires alone.

Theatre Prevues

Friday and Saturday, October 1st and 2nd, Frank Morgan, Richard Carlson, Jean Rogers and Peter Hall will be starred in "STRANGER IN TOWN," which will be at the Bayne Theater.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, three brilliant stars brings one of the greatest pictures in the history of our women at the lighting front. Romance, excitement, laughter and great heroism under fire is the theme of "SO PROUDLY WE HAIL." This is the picture that is based on the heroic adventures of a group of U. S. Army nurses who emerged from the holocaust of Bataan and Corregidor where they fought and loved and lived to the thunder of Jap guns. This is the picture that has two great, never-to-be-forgotten romances — one between Claudette Colbert and George Reeves; another between Paulette Goddard and newcomer Sonny Tufts. Veronica Lake, Claudette Colbert, George Reeves and Paulette Goddard are cast in the leading roles.

The next offering will be "BEST FOOT FORWARD," starring Lucille Ball, Virginia Weidler, William Gaxton and June Allyson. In great contrast to the previous film, this M-G-M Technicolor film is a musical comedy and the account of a movie star's visit to a Military Academy with many hilarious events taking place there.

For the Roland Theater the opening picture for Friday and Saturday will be "SHERLOCK HOLMES IN WASHINGTON," Basil Rathbone, Marjorie Lord, Nigel Bruce and John Archer are starred in the title roles.

Sunday and Monday there will be a Henry Aldrich film. Jimmy Lydon, Charles Smith, John Littel and Olive Blakeney featured in "HENRY ALDRICH GETS GLAMOUR."

Jimmy Lydon in the role of Henry does a great job as the bewildered winner of a movie contest which entitles him to a free trip to Hollywood and a date with glamour star Frances Gifford, the sarongir. Henry's experiences at the studio are very disappointing to him but he does get his picture taken with star just as she grabs hold of him to keep him from falling. He sends the photo to his friend Dixie (Charles Smith) who promptly turns it over to the local newspaper.

When Henry arrives home he is surprised to find the whole town down at the station to greet him, and his picture in the star's arms all over the front page of the newspaper. He is definitely local boy who has made good and every girl who has snubbed him before is now vying for his favor.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be a double feature. "THE CRIME SMASHER," starring Edgar Kennedy, Como Jones, Gale Storm and Richard Cromwell. This is a detective, comedy-drama, great action and a thoroughly entertaining film. Also the Range Busters in "HAUNTED RANCH." A true Western film with all the thrills.

Deaths

BRADEN VANDEVENTER

Funeral services for Braden Vandeventer, who died at his home in Norfolk on Tuesday morning, will be conducted at 10:00 a. m. Friday, October 1, in St. Andrew's church, Norfolk. The services will be conducted by the Rev. J. B. Dunn of Richmond and E. Ruffin Jones, rector of St. Andrew's church.

While a resident of Norfolk, Mr. Vandeventer was a member of the summer colony of residents at Virginia Beach and for many years occupied a cottage on 11th street.

As an attorney, Mr. Vandeventer enjoyed an outstanding national reputation and as a citizen of Norfolk his activity in civic affairs was conspicuous in its contribution to the welfare of the community.

He is survived by his widow, Phelan Ruffin Vandeventer, Lieut. Braden Vandeventer and Mary Dunn Vandeventer.

FRANK RICE

Frank Rice, contractor-carpenter, of Virginia Beach, died at the City Home on September 21. Mr. Rice had been in ill health for some time prior to the stroke suffered, from which he did not recover.

Before coming to Virginia Beach Mr. Rice was chief mechanic for the Norfolk Southern railroad. He came to the Beach about 1901 and was employed as maintenance man at the old Princess Anne Hotel, located at that time at the south end of the beach. In 1903 he returned to his original trade, contracting, and built what is now Meredith's Drug store on 17th and Pacific.

There are many monuments standing today of his work in the community but the outstanding one is the old "Masury Mansion" on Crystal Lake.

At the time of his death Mr. Rice had an apartment in the Old Town Hall on 14th and Pacific.

GEORGE POLLARD

George Pollard died at his home on Cypress Ave., Virginia Beach, Wednesday, September 29. He suffered a stroke early in the week.

He was a life long resident of Virginia Beach and one whom the older residents will remember as the little colored shoeshine boy called "Mink Pollard."

When a small boy, Pollard was carriage boy at the old Princess Anne hotel, located at the south end of the beach and which was destroyed by fire. From there he went to Cape Henry to work at O'Keefe's Oyster Place and was known to have boasted many times of having served roast oysters to ex-President Taft on one of his visits to the community.

Mr. Pollard returned to Virginia Beach and opened a cleaning and pressing establishment in the rear of the Jarvis Building. He was active in this business until a few days before his death.

GRAND CAVERNS AT GROTTOS, VA., CHANGE OWNERSHIP

The Grand Caverns on Route 12 at Grottoes, Va., have been sold through J. G. Sheets & Son, Roanoke, Va., to an undisclosed buyer.

The Grand Caverns under new management will now be open daily throughout the year from 7:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. The new management contemplates many improvements for the convenience and enjoyment of the public.

The magnificent and spectacular underground formations in the Grand Caverns, fashioned by Mother Nature, far excel in grandeur anything created by Man.

Throughout the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia many scenic wonders are to be found and not the least of these are the numerous caves and caverns. Grand Caverns, situated in a park of about 100 acres, were just discovered in 1804 and since that time explorers have penetrated deeper into the hillside—discovering new wonders at every turn.

HANDYMAN CAN MAKE HOME REPAIRS

"Fixing up" around the house has always been as well as easy on the pocketbook for the confirmed home handyman—or woman. A few drops of oil in time will keep your hard-to-replace sewing machine humming smoothly for the duration. A bit of glue on a loose chair rung will save the manpower needed to make the new chair you might otherwise buy. A handful of nails and a few feet of lumber will make shelves to keep house-hold goods from being damaged. It's important that you have permanent storage space ready before canning is finished. Either new or used lumber will do for the shelves. It need only be sturdy. Old crates or boxes, even furniture that is beyond repair, can be converted into shelves of cupboards.

KEEP GUTTERS FREE FROM LEAVES

Keeping gutters from becoming clogged with leaves will make them last longer. Painting metal gutters with tar or liquid-asphalt roofing cement will protect them from rust. Gutters beyond repair can be replaced with whatever the owner wants.

VIRGINIA MILK No. 1 WAR FOOD

Virginia's dairy industry is giving outstanding aid to the war as hundreds of millions of quarts of milk flow this year through channels of processing and distribution to the armed forces, war workers, civilians and to our allies on distant fronts.

Milk has been called the leading wartime food. Milk helps American boys in military service attain high nutritional standards; it reaches Great Britain as cheese; Russia as butter; China and Africa as powder; French youngsters in evaporated form.

Total farm milk production in Virginia reached 754,000,000 quarts in 1942. The 428,000 cows on Virginia farms each produced an average of 1,763 quarts of milk. In addition to the quantities consumed as fluid milk and cream, Virginia milk was used for making 7,390,000 pounds of creamery butter, and substantial amounts of ice cream and other dairy products. Virginia 1942 farm cash milk income totaled $28,339,000.

It is the largest single source of farm cash income and was 15 per cent off farm income in 1942—larger than cattle or hogs, twice cotton, three times wheat, five times tobacco. One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood. "Americans enjoy the best milk in the world," it is said, "with sanitary safeguards and widespread distribution that make this milk supply an invaluable asset in wartime."

DUCK HUNTERS ASKED TO AID ARMY FLYERS BY SAVING FEATHERS

New York, Sept. 30—America's sportsmen can contribute to the safety of wartime flyers this fall by saving the down and small body feathers of wild ducks and geese needed for lining high-altitude flying suits. Ducks Unlimited announces in launching a nation-wide campaign to collect waterfowl feathers.

Best available substitute for commercial eider down, imports of which have been cut off by the war, the down of 10 mallard ducks for example will not only provide a flying suit with protective warmth against sub-zero temperatures but with buoyancy to keep its wearer afloat for 24 hours.

Experts say enough of this material is to be had from the annual national waterfowl bag (obtainable only during the legal hunting season through co-operation of duck hunters) to make 300,000 flying suits, 500,000 zero-proof parkas or 150,000 sleeping bags for troops in colder parts of the world.

All feathers less than two and one-half inches long can be used. They should be kept dry. Sportsmen are urged to donate shipments, transportation collect, to Ducks Unlimited, 34 Columbia Street, Seattle, Wash. Name and address of donor and "Waterfowl Feathers" should be written on packages.

Sportsmen's organizations, sporting goods stores and others are also asked to establish local feather receiving stations from which bulk shipments may be made.

Donations will serve the double purpose of aiding the war effort and waterfowl restoration. Manufacturers will pay for the material and all proceeds will be placed in a fund for establishment of waterfowl nesting refuges.

Carry on with the newspapers.

Don't Blame the Bureaucrat

the exercise of another unlimited power against which no constitutional barrier will ever stand: the control of the purse strings. By making the units of state government financially dependent on the federal government, that government is acquiring the power to control the units of state government. When this is fully consummated, the sovereignty of the state governments will be liquidated.

This job will have been done with money sent by Washington in the form of loans and gifts to states, towns, school districts, individual citizens. This money has served to attach all these interests directly to the central government and make them subject to its power.

But we are approaching the day of reckoning. Up to now Washington has been borrowing money and scattering it among the states. I do not refer to war activities but to ordinary current government activities. The federal government, long before the preparation for this war, was mortgaging the taxpaying ability of future generations to pay current expenses. The taxes to service these vast federal operations and pay the interest on the debt must come out of the same pockets from which the states and cities must collect their funds. The federal government has first call on these funds. We are therefore moving rapidly toward a condition where there will not be enough left to run the states.

In weakening the states we weaken the whole fabric of free government. The inescapable price of free government is that we exercise it. The most destructive force in the world is nonuse. If we do not use our powers of self-government in the states we will awake one day to find that self-government has passed irrevocably out of our hands.

Government is exercised best in the local community. There the problems are perceived with greater clarity because they are close to the people and on a scale within their grasp. The self-reliance of the individual, town and state is being destroyed as they are being relieved of the necessity of governing themselves. When people stop thinking for themselves there is always someone willing to step forward and do their thinking for them.

What shall we do about it? Change bureaucrats? Consolidate bureaus? Abolish bureaus and turn the whole intolerable load back to Congress? None of these make-shifts touches the real problem. It is folly to talk about abolishing bureaus as long as we continue to pile on the central government the problem of every state and town and social group in the nation. The men who are trying to drive us toward government by bureaucracy understand this. The chief adviser of the National Resources Planning Board, recently abolished by Congress, prophesies crisply:

Congress will surrender to the Administration the power to tax. . . Congress will appropriate huge sums of money; will surrender its power of directing when and how the money will be spent.

Other extraordinary powers, such as to effect great social reforms, will be delegated to the Administration, which will retain most, if not all, of its wartime powers. This is precisely the bureaucratic control we will have if we persist in making Washington the guide, philosopher, big brother, supervisor and master of every activity within our borders. The remedy—and the only remedy—is to send all these nonfederal functions back where they belong: to the states and the local communities, where they can be handled upon a scale within the comprehension of the limited mind of man.

Strangely, those in Washington who fight for this new bureaucratic central control call themselves progressives and those who oppose them are branded as reactionaries. Such is the power of labels. We are grasping at ancient evils, and call them progress.

This disease has been most devastating in Germany. In Imperial Germany men already talked of the "tyranny of bureaucracy." The republican government which succeeded the Kaiser greatly expanded it. It reached its full flower under Hitler. Indeed, National Socialism may be described as government by bureaucracy. If we think Hitler's system is better than ours we should have the honesty to say so instead of copying while we denounce it.

The states must resume the status of responsible sovereign agencies of general government or democracy cannot live in America.

Test Anti-Freeze for Re-use

Add "Inhibitor" to Prevent Corrosion

If you saved your anti-freeze solution from last winter, the War Production Board advises that you add an "inhibitor" to prevent motor corrosion before you put it back in your automobile, truck, or tractor radiator for the coming winter.

Inhibitors come in the form of a liquid or powder. They prevent rust and corrosion but do not add to the protective strength of the anti-freeze solution.

Should Test Old Anti-Freeze Before an anti-freeze solution is put back into the radiator, it should be tested to determine what temperature it will protect against. If fresh anti-freeze is needed to strengthen the solution, it is better, WPB says, that the same type of anti-freeze be added.

Cooling System Needs Cleaning The cooling system of the motor should be thoroughly cleaned before adding any anti-freeze or inhibitor, and if the anti-freeze has been stored in a container since last winter, any sediment should be carefully removed before the solution is put back into the cooling system.

TEN BILLION IN TAXES

An interesting fact to be noted at this time is the news that American industrial plants paid federal taxes of nearly $10,000,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30. This is the figure of the U. S. Treasury.

Individual income tax payments of officers, executives, and stockholders of American corporations are not included in this figure; nor are the large sum returned to the government through renegotiations.

Seniors of a Milwaukee high school used the money saved to buy class rings to purchase war stamps.

Pulpwood Shortage Imminent

Farmers Urged to Cut and Ship An Available Material

A large part of the vast supply of supplies and munitions necessary to maintain our armies on the far-flung fronts must be shipped in containers made of wood pulp, and if these munitions are to reach the fighting front promptly, American farmers must do their part to help.

Shoppers of the threatened pulpwood shortage of about two million cords which now confronts the pulp industry. Due to labor shortages and transportation difficulties, the mills are having trouble in securing enough wood to keep running at capacity. The farmer will receive several times as much for pulpwood delivered at the mill or at the wood yard than he will for wood sold on the stump.

By cutting pulpwood every day or part of a day which can be spared from other farm duties, farmers can improve their farm woods, keep their help profitably employed, receive a good price for the timber cut, make a fair wage for their own labor, and help win the war. Cutting pulpwood is essential war work. This is recognized by the War Manpower Commission, Selective Service and all other agencies.

Practically all species are used for pulp by certain mills, but in most parts of Virginia there are certain species not being bought. So consult your dealer or mill before you start cutting and cut only the kind required in your vicinity. The following dealers or mills buy pulpwood in this vicinity: Chesapeake-Camp Co., Franklin, Va., Railroad Siding in carload lots. At Plant in Franklin, Va., if less than carload lots.

Farmers and other timber owners are urged to do the whole job of cutting and hauling to the siding, providing they are going to ship in carload lots. However, if they are not going to ship in carload lots, it will be necessary to deliver to plant mentioned above.

Pulpwood should not be cut from timber trees, nor should any area be cut clean for pulpwood. The pulp mills want a continuing supply. We need timber for the future. Trees of lumber.

RIGHT NOW IN THE NATION'S POULTRY HOUSES are 163 million more chickens than there were a year ago. There isn't enough feed in sight to take care of all of them. Here are some good points to remember:

One—You can't afford to feed a single "star border" this year. Keep your catching hook handy and cull out every week the birds that aren't producing.

Two—Get rid of the rats. Three rats will eat enough feed in one year to care for two laying hens.

Three—Keep the birds comfortable so they can use their feed to best advantage. Each 100 layers should have about 20 to 24 feet of hopper space. A one-inch lip nailed on the hoppers will keep the birds from billing feed out on the ground.

Next time you order feed, ask your Southern States Cooperative Service Agency for some All Mash Ration. This mash is fortified with vitamins and high protein ingredients—and makes your regular Southern States feeds go farther. All Mash Ration is equivalent in feeding value to a mixture of equal parts of Super Layer Mash and coarse scratch. You don't need to feed any grain when you feed All Mash Ration.

You need new feeders, too. Over your needs with your local Southern States Service Agency. If anyone can get them for you, he will.

IT'S A FACT:

that the layers on the farms of Southern States patrons laid enough extra last year to supply every man, woman and child in Baltimore, Richmond, and Washington with an egg for breakfast every morning for a year.

SOUTHERN STATES CO-OPERATIVE

her quality are most needed for that purpose. Cut as pulpwood instead part of the trees in overcrowded thickets, saving the healthiest, best-formed trees to grow into saw timber. Cut all rough, limby trees, poorly-formed trees, knotty trees and injured trees. And if you are cutting or selling timber or veneer log trees of the kinds usable for pulp, work up the tops as pulpwood if there is a market for that class of pulpwood. Consult your dealer about this.

Landowners in Virginia may secure assistance and advice from foresters concerning what to cut and how to cut by applying to the farm forester if one is available, to the State district forester, or to the county agent. If it is more convenient, simply address Virginia Forest Service, Box 1368, University Station, Charlottesville, Virginia, and your request will be referred to the proper party.

Donald Nelson of War Production Board estimates that the threatened shortage can be averted and a reserve of wood created if every farmer in the pulp producing states will use three extra days cutting pulpwood. Here is a real chance to help.

BY SCIENCE SERVICE

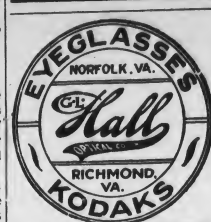

As American as the bald eagle is the black bass. Trout, his great rival for the affection of anglers, we share with other lands, but the black bass is all our own.

He is a blockier, stockier fish than the trout, can put more power into a fight, and is just about as fast on his fins as his rival. He will hit any kind of bait under proper circumstances—fly, spinner or live stuff—and he will give the angler a lively battle before he permits himself to be landed.

NO DATES ON KEROSENE COUPONS

Persons who use small amounts of kerosene for domestic cooking and lighting may now get renewal ration for periods longer than the six months formerly permitted. This provision of a recent OPA amendment is to reduce the number of renewal applications by the consumer and the amount of paper work performed by the rationing board. The amendment provides that ration coupons for domestic cooking and lighting no longer will bear dates of issuance and expiration, and coupons may be used as long as they last. The rationing board may issue the ration for any period up to a year from date of application. The maximum ration allowed for domestic cooking has been increased to 30 gallons a month for the first seven persons. It was formerly 24 gallons for six or seven persons.

OUT WARNS ABOUT SCHOOL BUSES

School buses may not be used to transport students to athletic games, state or county fairs, or similar events, the Office of Defense Transportation has stated.

NEW TIRE RULINGS

Eligibility for new passenger tires (Grade I) has been restricted to "C" truck drivers with a mileage of 801 miles or more per month. All "B" drivers and some "C" truck holders will now be eligible only for used and recapped tires. The number of new passenger tires available for rationing in the October quota will be reduced by one-fifth, the OPA recently announced. Quota for farm tractor and implement tires for October is 59,800 as compared with 73,800 in September.

"Shop Early—Mail Early"

Christmas Mail Should Be In Postoffice by Dec. 10

Never before has the necessity been so imperative for getting packages in the mail early in December for Christmas delivery. The First Assistant Postmaster General has sent out a nationwide request that all Christmas packages should be in the mail by December 10. No packages going to men in the armed forces overseas will have any assurance of reaching their destination by Christmas unless postmarked prior to October 15. These parcels may all be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas" and should bear the postal unit delivery number in addresses of mail directed to those titles in which the unit numbering system has been established.

The reason for the early mailing of packages is due to the fact that the number of trained employees available for distributing and delivering mail has been seriously reduced and the mail transportation facilities curtailed due to the war operation. Over 30,000 postal employees have entered the armed services and therefore the slogan of previous years, "Shop Early and Mail Early," is more important than ever before.

Ration Token Plans Shaped

Nine Hundred Million Discs to Constitute Initial Supply

Washington — The office of Price Administration has outlined its plans for use of the ration tokens which will be put in circulation early in 1944.

The tokens, to be used as change for processed foods and meats-fats stamps, will be made of plastic or glass, will be slightly larger than a nickel and will be inscribed to designate the foods for which they are good.

Bids on the manufacture of an initial supply of 900,000,000 of the discs—400,000,000 blue and 500,000,000 red—were opened this week.

Each token will have a value of one point, and will have no expiration date. The blue ones will be used as change for processed food stamps, and the red for red meats-fats stamps.

To Have Uniform Value

All red and blue stamps will be assigned a uniform value of 10 points when the tokens are placed in use, OPA said. Thus a customer making an eight-point blue stamp purchase would receive two blue tokens as change, to be used any time.

Through the use of tokens and uniform stamp values, OPA expects War Ration Book 4, scheduled for distribution late this month, to last approximately two years.

The 15,000 participating ration banks will furnish dealers with their token supplies.

Passenger transportation in Charleston, S. C., has increased 62 per cent since December, 1939.

Carving Hitler's Goose

An oxyacetylene torch is getting out a choice cut of high-nickel content alloy steel from this old tank left over from the last war. It is one of a lot of 177 six-ton Remants that have been routed to a Baltimore scrap dealer's yard where the work of cutting them up and segregating alloy steel parts from parts made of plain carbon steel is now going forward. From the scrap dealer's yard the salvaged alloy steels are being shipped to Bethlehem Steel Company plants for remelting. The plain steel will go into plates for more ships, the alloy steels into armor for new tanks and battleships of the latest design, also armor piercing shells.

Needlework Guild Ingathering Oct. 10-16

All Articles Collected for Use in Princess Anne County

Membership Open to Everyone

Governor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., of Virginia, has joined with governors of 41 other states in proclaiming October 10 to 16 as Needlework Guild Week.

At this time over 700 branches throughout the United States will join in the gathering of thousands of items of wearing apparel and household linens, which later will be distributed to children and grown-ups in charitable institutions or through local groups to homes where they are most needed. In Princess Anne County the new articles, for the most part, will be distributed through the county's welfare and charitable institutions.

Enrollment Voluntary

The only requirement for membership in this national organization is the contribution of two new, identical articles of wearing apparel or household linens, or a donation of money. Enrollment is voluntary, and open to everyone through the local branch.

Known as the charity that helps other charities, the National Needlework Guild, in caring for home front needs and in its readiness for probable emergencies, is making a valuable contribution to the national war effort. For this it has been commended by President Roosevelt, Roosevelt. It is officially affiliated with the American Red Cross, the General Federation of Women's clubs and others.

Founded 58 Years Ago

The Needlework Guild of America brings rays of happiness and hope and plain, simple, everyday comforts into the lives of the less fortunate citizens, by such acts as giving new clothes for a lot who probably never before had a brand-new outfit, or new, clean sheets, towels and pillow slips for a sick man and poverty-stricken household.

The Needlework Guild of America was founded in this country 58 years ago to help the needy in the communities. Today, there are over 700 branches throughout the country, with one million members.

This means that two million new garments are distributed each year by the Guild to people who need them desperately. Many of the garments have been given out through the American Red Cross, with which the Needlework Guild is affiliated. Others are placed through missions, shelters, relief associations.

Virginia Now Has 154,000 Men in Armed Forces

Princess Anne County Has Total of 686

Virginia men in the armed forces numbered 154,000 as of August 1, the State Director of Selective Service, Col. Mills F. Neal, announced.

The total was made public on the request of Governor Darden in an effort to spur interest in the Third War Bond Drive.

Of the Virginians in service, 122,432 were white and 31,568 negroes. The cities furnished 59,322 with the remainder from rural communities. Enlisted women were not taken into the count.

Four counties, Charles City, Nansemond, King and Queen and Surry, furnished more negroes than whites. One county, Buchanan, had no negroes at all in the service, while Craig had only one.

Princess Anne county has a total of 686, with 540 of this number white.

In making the previously restricted information available with permission of the War Manpower Commission, Colonel Neal said inductions have not been made on a percentage of population basis, but on the basis of the availability of men in the categories sought by the service.

The total figure for Virginia compares with some 96,000 men from Virginia who served in World War I, and is 5.8 per cent of the total population of the state, based on the official 1940 census.

Edward Kelly Begins Third Year at U. S. O.

Active in Civic Affairs of Community

Friday, October 8 marks the beginning of the third year of service at the Virginia Beach USO club for Edward J. Kelly, director of the club at 18th and Arctic Aves.

Mr. Kelly came to Virginia Beach in the fall of 1941 from New York where he had been actively engaged in organization work. After conferring with local organizations and the Defense Service Committee working in the community, a plan was formulated whereby all activities would be merged under the head of the USO Advisory board and Defense Service committee. Mr. Kelly was placed in charge of activities in the USO Service club on Atlantic Ave. and 19th Street in December 1941. In February 1942 the new Federal Recreation building on Arctic Ave. was opened under his direct supervision and the USO and the National Catholic Community Service.

As the number of men in the armed forces in the community increased the activities increased. Additional men and women of Virginia Beach joined the volunteer group to aid in the work and valuable equipment was received from the Federal government.

Mr. Kelly has not confined his activities solely to the USO work (Continued On Page Three)

C. Fred Bonney Dies in Office

Native of Princess Anne County

C. Fred Bonney, 72, president of the Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association in Norfolk, died in his office at 10:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, apparently from an embolism. Associates said he had been in good spirits during the morning, and showed signs of distress only a moment before he collapsed.

Mr. Bonney had been associated with the Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association since 1928 as trustee officer and treasurer before he was elected to the presidency in 1938. Earlier, he was manager of the Norfolk district for the Southern State Telephone Company and its successor, the Southern Bell Telephone Company. He was secretary of the board of trustees and an elder of (Continued on page 4)

Virginia's 1944-46 Budget To Be $20,769,842

Budget requests for capital outlay expenditures alone for the 1944-46 biennium have now been tabulated by Budget Director J. H. Bradford and amount to a total of $20,769,842, or just about a million and three-quarters more than the estimated surplus. The requests come from 36 of the eighty-two departments, institutions and related agencies of the State government, fifty of whom presented their requests last week to Governor Darden and members of his Budget Advisory Board while the remaining ones will be heard on October 5, 6 and 7.

Large as the figure for capital outlay expenditure is, it, of course, does not include the increases requested for operating funds for the departments and the more or less general requests for general increases in salaries. The largest capital outlay program yet to be presented is that of the University of Virginia with a plan of nearly $6,000,000 which contains a $3,000,000 request for a group of buildings to provide adequate lodging, dining and social quarters with a requirement that all first and second-year students reside together on the campus. This plan received the immediate approval of Governor Darden who remarked that it was "imperative if the University of Virginia is to be what Jefferson intended it to be."

$365,000 to Date Report Not Complete

The Third War Loan Bond Sales have gone considerably over the $250,000 quota set for Princess Anne county, according to Claiborne Bryant, chairman of the drive for the county.

The figure as of October 1 stands at $365,515. This is not the complete and final amount as bonds were purchased in various other sections of the country with the request that Princess Anne county receive the credit for the sale. These returns have not reached the local chairman.

Mr. Bryant and his co-workers have done a splendid job and deserve the thanks of the people of Princess Anne county for their contributions in making the drive a success in this most critical period in our history.

We feel sure that the chairman and his co-workers wish to pass along to the patriotic citizens of the county the credit due them for making such a splendid showing.

The concerted drive is over, but the war is not won. Bonds and stamps of all denominations are still available. The need is more urgent than ever to "Back The Attack" by buying more bonds.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

OUR FREE PRESS

Another National Newspaper: Week comes to a close marking the end of another twelve months of the stress, the trials and the hardships occasioned by war.

Newspaper publishers throughout the nation united to point out the value of our Free Press in our Democracy. President Roosevelt sent out this message to newspapers of the nation citing the responsibility faced by the United States Press, "to keep the people fully and wisely informed, to record and publish those sober facts that will steady a nation tossed on the sea of wartime uncertainty." . . . "The rights of a free press are the safeguards of the people; the responsibilities of a free press are the commandments of the people."

American people in every city, town and village in which newspapers are published have paid tribute to the accomplishments of the free and independent press which has made every effort to further the war effort and program.

When, in order to keep the steel furnaces going, scrap metals were needed, the newspapers took over the problem and individually and collectively agitated the demand for scrap. In response to this appeal by the newspapers metal poured in, the furnaces continued to operate and steel for ships, guns, tanks and planes was made possible. The metal scrap drive was but one of many backed by the newspapers. Advertising contributed or underwritten by the papers put over the sale of war bonds and stamps; financed the Red Cross and USO; secured the needed blood donors that the lives of wounded soldiers might be saved; encouraged and promoted the organization of home defense; Red Cross activities; the promotion and conservation of food and other projects for which support was needed.

But the greatest service rendered by American newspapers was in creating and holding public morale, in stimulating faith in the American cause and the assurance of eventual victory.

Throughout the past twelve months the American newspapers have carried on with radically depleted personnel, through extra exertion and long hours in an endeavor to keep the home fires burning that the America they were fighting for may be the America to which they will return when the day of unconditional surrender of the enemy in Europe and Asia has arrived. The observance of National Newspaper Week is a fitting recognition of the accomplishments of the American press.

DON'T HOARD YOUR PENNIES

There is hoarding today of a most serious nature. There exists in our banks a critical shortage of pennies. We are advised to "save our pennies" but not in the literal sense of the word.

Anyone who has pennies stored away, in any amount, is requested to bring them to the bank and cash them in. This is a patriotic duty which will relieve a situation that is fast becoming serious.

NATIONAL NEWS OF NOTE

KEEP THE RECORD CLEAR

The people of the United States have become so used to enjoying railroad transportation that is practically free of accidents to passengers, that they are shocked when a train wreck does occur.

It is true that the number of passenger fatalities this year will exceed those of any year for the past twenty years, although the fatalities per 100,000,000 passenger-miles are very little more than they were in 1910, 1920 and 1925, and less than they were in 1922 and some earlier years.

Figures show that the chances of the average passenger being killed in a train wreck are on a ratio of but one chance in four million. This means, even at the death rate this year, the average passenger can look forward to traveling in safety 370,000,000 miles—a journey which would require constant travel for about 1200 years.

If one could be as safe from accidental death at home or in recreation as on the train, untold grief and suffering would be averted. The New York Times points out editorially that just to keep a sense of proportion, it is well to remember that seven bad railroad crashes since 1940 have cost 175 lives; whereas in the single year of 1941 automobile accidents killed 40,000 people in the United States.

It is miraculous that with the tremendous traffic that American railroads are handling, such an infinitesimal proportion of persons have been injured or killed.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

The future of the Philippine Islands is a definite responsibility of the United States, and there is no plainer obligation in this war than that of freeing that Commonwealth from the Japanese invaders.

President Roosevelt, and President Quezon of the Philippines are back of the resolutions that have been introduced by Senator Tydings, and by Representative Bell. The measure would give the Philippines their complete independence within 30 days after passage by Congress.

This step has been taken to block the efforts of the Japanese to set-up a Quisling government in Manila. Its passage would emphasize the determination of the United States to carry out the evacuation of the Philippines and to continue as guardians and protectors of the Philippines.

There is no question but what the United States will fulfill all its obligations to the Philippines, and General MacArthur is impatient over delays that prevent him from returning to the Islands as the leader of the war in behalf of the Commonwealth.

WHAT ABOUT RUSSIA?

J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C. — Joseph Stalin appears to hold the big cards in the game he is playing with President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, both of whom are trying to find out whether or not the big Russian is bluffing.

An important step was taken in Washington when the President accepted the resignation of Sumner Welles of the State Department and made the unexpected selection of E. R. Stettinius as the new Undersecretary. If all goes well Stettinius will accompany Secretary Hull and top-notch U. S. and British statesmen on another "mission to Moscow." Stalin is generally described as a realist. He will understand Stettinius, who has administered Lend-Lease and supplied the Russians with billions of dollars worth of American war machines and materials and supplies that made it possible for the Red Army to turn the tides of battle and drive Hitler and his invaders on the way out of Russia. Mr. Stalin has already said "thank you" for that, but at the same time he has criticized the war operations of the United Nations, while sidestepping all efforts of the heads of America and Great Britain to bring about a face-to-face conference with Roosevelt and Churchill. Are the Russians going to stop fighting when they get to Poland, or are they going to join the United Nations and meet in Berlin?

There are a lot of other questions involved including the future course of Russia after Victory.

The general disposition in Washington and London toward Russia has been very patient, tolerant, and hopeful that all will turn out well in the end. But the British and American Governments have reached the point where they are insisting on plain understandings with the Russian Ally who is fighting the same enemies in Europe that we are.

The situation as it exists at present is serious, and that's one of the strategic reasons why Stettinius was appointed to back-up Hull, and the American and British delegations in negotiations with Moscow.

MUDDLING ON THE HOME FRONT

After all the legislating, regulating, and government operation of American coal mines, the net result is demoralization of that industry. The miners seem to be slowing down because of a stalemate forced by their own leader who plays one government agency against another. He has demonstrated that to date he is more powerful than the government.

If the muddlers of the coal situation succeed in bringing on coal rationing, the calamity will be due to politics instead of business practices in the coal fields.

An authority on coal, in commenting on the situation, says that shortages are the result of strikes since the first of May. The whole situation could be improved very greatly if the coal mines would go on a 48-hour week for the next 12 weeks. If the miners worked, their actual earnings would be almost 100 per cent greater per week than they were on January 1, 1941.

So far as blaming coal mine operators for failure to make contracts demanded by Mr. Lewis, it should be remembered that the operators could not have made a contract under the terms of the law without overriding the decision of the President, Judge Byrnes, and the War Labor Board.

Is present confusion in the coal mines promoted to create a background for attempts to re-pass the Guffey Coal Act which recently expired? That measure was originally passed to "buy" peace in the coal mines by increasing the price of coal to consumers in order to meet demands of Lewis for wage increases. But the most disastrous strikes in the coal industry occurred while the Guffey Act was in effect.

In the face of a declared Administration policy to combat monopoly, the Guffey Coal Act not only encouraged, but compelled the mine operators to combine to fix prices below which no operator, no matter how efficient, could sell except at grave penalties.

Is demoralization of the coal mines part of a well laid plan for nationalization of the natural resource industries of the United States? The constantly tightening grip of bureaucratic control which make it ever more difficult for private enterprise to carry on, points that way.

GUARD AGAINST CARELESSNESS

The hunting season brings its hazards along with its pleasures.

In Princess Anne county the 90-day deer season opened October 1, along with the bear and squirrel season. It is the individual responsibility of each hunter to use the utmost care whenever he goes hunting. A careless act in handling his gun or rifle may result in serious injury or death to himself or to some other person.

Carelessness with matches and camp fires can cause disastrous fires.

October 10 is National Hunt- ing Day. Let us all take care.

There are possibly more traffic accidents on hunting trips than by firearms, however, every person who uses firearms should never forget the responsibility resting upon him and he should exercise the utmost caution in the protection of life and property while hunting.

Indifference to a timely admonition may take it too late to regret a careless injury to self or some other person.

Forest Fire Prevention Motion Picture Available

Oct. 5 — A State-wide motion picture program schedule has been organized as a part of the intensive forest fire prevention campaign being waged by the Virginia Forest Service, according to a statement issued today by F. C. Pederson, State Forester, at his Charlottesville headquarters. In explaining the campaign the state official said that two portable sound motion picture projectors owned by the Forest Service would be intensively used throughout the state on a definite schedule to show technicolor sound motion pictures on forest fire prevention and the vital importance of Virginia's forests, to schools, 4-H clubs, farmers groups, Service organizations and similar groups.

The lumber, pulpwood, piles, railroad ties, poles and other products cut from the forests of the state are so urgently needed by the essential war industries that we cannot afford to sacrifice a part of them to destruction by carelessly started forest fires. Valuable manpower is also lost fighting these useless fires, the State Forester continued.

Approximately one-third of all forest fires could be prevented if smokers would break their matches in two, use the ash tray of their car, or deaden their live cigarette or cigar butt by grinding on a stone, shoe sole, or damp earth. An additional one-third of all fires could be prevented if people would not burn trash, weeds, fields or new ground on windy days and not until after 4:00 p. m.

The schedule of the motion picture units for October 1-30, in the Norfolk area is in charge of T. S. Turner, New Kilm Bldg., Portsmouth.

The State Forester suggested that any school or group who may be interested in seeing these instructive movies, free of cost, should communicate with the person in charge of their area, their county Chief Forest Warden, or the State Forester's office, on the face of all coupons.

ENDORSE GAS COUPONS

Motorists should endorse their gasoline ration coupons immediately and not wait until they buy gas. Holders of A, B, C, D or T books are to write their license number and state of registration on face of all coupons. Holders of E or R books are to write their name and address on the face of all coupons.

THERE IS NO SHORTAGE OF ELECTRICITY... But UNCLE SAM ASKS EVERYBODY TO CONSERVE IT!

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD
WASHINGTON, D. C.
July 24, 1940

To Electric Utilities and Their Customers:

The War Production Board has proclaimed that maximum war production requires the greatest possible conservation of manpower, transportation, fuel, equipment, and critical material such as copper, steel, tungsten and many others — much greater than has been heretofore accomplished. It believes that this greater conservation can be accomplished by the voluntary cooperation of all citizens of our country to effect savings on all home fronts by the Office of Defense Transportation, the Petroleum Administration for War, the Solid Fuel Administration, the Office of War Utilities, and other government agencies. These agencies have been developing the details of the conservation program.

Each principal industry and agency is organizing to carry the objective of the War Production Board to its members and they, in turn, to their customers so that the fullest conservation may be obtained. This is a definite challenge to each operating unit and each individual in the electric utility industry to do his or her share in backing up our fighting forces. We cannot exert maximum force against our enemies if waste on the home front is tolerated.

In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity now under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But, it is essential to save the use of electricity wherever possible so as to reduce directly or indirectly, the demands for materials, fuel, transportation, and manpower.

The Office of War Utilities, in consultation with representatives of the electric utility industry, both public and private, has developed a comprehensive program to achieve the objectives of the war Production Board within that industry.

The desired result will be obtained through the full cooperation of millions of people in the conservation program. With everyone contributing, the effect will be tremendous in hastening the day of Victory.

Sincerely yours,
J. A. Krug
Director
Office of War Utilities

HELP SAVE FUEL—TRANSPORTATION MANPOWER—AND CRITICAL MATERIALS

ALL THESE THINGS are used to make Electricity. Electricity itself cannot be stored. But any reduction you can safely make in the USE of it will reduce the amount of fuel burned to make electricity. That will mean fewer railroad cars to haul the fuel and fewer man-hours to handle it. More cars and more men will be available for America's war effort. You can save Electricity by:

- Curtail indoor and outdoor advertising lighting.
- Establish use of promotional and display sign lighting.
- Reduced decorative and ornamental lighting.
- Minimize use of decorative flood lighting.
- Reduction in show window lighting.
- Less intense lighting of marquees.
- Minimize use of lighting for outdoor business displays.
- Shorter use of non-essential interior and show case lighting.
- Moderation of air-conditioning.
- Reduction in non-essential use of lights and appliances.
- Careful use of light and appliances to avoid any wasted use of electricity.

There is no shortage of Electricity—BUT each kilowatt-hour that you save—multiplied by thousands of others—will be an important contribution to the Government's Voluntary Conservation Program. The wise use of Electricity, and other fuel-consuming services will save millions of tons of coal each year. Electricity is a war material. Use it WISELY—there is more to WASTE!

Oceana vs. Morrison October 8th

On October 8 at 3:30 p. m., the Cavaliers of Oceana against the strong Morrison team in a Class B Conference football game on the Oceana field. This is the second conference game this fall for the Oceana lads, having played Norview to a 7-7 tie when the two teams met at Norview early in September.

Very probably Coach Myers will start the following men against Morrison: Ends, Torr, L. Allen or Webster; tackles, Rust and Markovitz; guards, Paston and Plannan; center, Byrd; backfield, Hogg, Gregory, K. Allen and Powell or Payne. Wesley Payne and Billy Walte will also see a lot of service before the game is over.

Victorious Over Churchland
Friday, October 1, the Cavaliers had an easy time defeating the High School football team of Churchland by the score of 41 to 0. Coach Myers used his second team a good part of the time. Although the Churchland team was out played, they put up a plucky fight to the end.

Fifty Hogs went in a scoring spree. He accounted for three of the six touchdowns made. Others scored were Torr, Payne and Webster.

Two other backs, George Powell and Captain Kenneth Allen did not see service during the game due to the fact that they were suffering with bad ankles.

BOOKS TO OWN

At the age of twelve, a Southern lad named Robert Scott made up his mind that he wanted to be an air pilot. Accordingly, he built himself a glider—and crashed sixty-seven feet onto a rose bush when he flew it out into space. Undaunted, a year later he bought a wartime Jenny, which the Government was auctioning off, for seventy-five dollars. A street-car conductor who had once been a pilot taught him to fly it.

That was the beginning of the career of a man who knew what he wanted—and who got it. Colonel Robert Scott tells his story in "God Is My Co-Pilot." At the time of Pearl Harbor, Scott was thirty-four. He applied for combat duty and was told that he was too old, although he might be an instructor. He began writing letters to Generals. He kept on until he received a telephone call from Washington: "Have you ever flown a four-engined ship?"

He hadn't, but he was sure he could. His first assignment was to fly one of a squadron of Fortresses to China. There he was assigned to the Assam-Burma-China ferry command that was to keep the supply line to China open after the caps had closed the Burma Road. It was a dangerous mission. But not dangerous enough for Scott.

Using his remarkable powers of persuading Generals, he procured for himself a P-40 fighter from General Claire Chennault and set himself up, besides his ferrying duties, as a one-man spare time branch of China's Fighting Tigers. He was finally made commander of all the fighters in China under Chennault. Almost half his book deals with the exciting and dangerous exploits of himself and his comrades during this period.

POSTWAR BUYING BACKLOG

A sign of the times is the new, unadvertised shortage which the U. S. public will soon find in safety deposit boxes. White-collar workers and wage earners clutching War Bonds in their hands have swarmed into banks and trust companies in recent months and rented safety deposit boxes for the first time in their lives.

Safety deposit box occupancy is at an all time high; rentals since January 1, are up 31 per cent over the same period a year ago. Yet there is no tendency to hoard currency. The total of money in circulation is rising steadily.

This is most significant. People's valuables today consist largely of war bonds and other long range savings. That means, in terms of postwar planning, an accumulated buying power to back up the great demand which will exist when the war ends. It means that people will be able to pay for the things industry will produce. It means greater employment if industry, unhampered by unnecessary governmental restrictions, is given a chance to satisfy the demand.

One hundred tin cans will provide about 100 lbs. of food.

during his two year's residence at the beach. He has served as chairman of the USO Staff Conference in Norfolk, is a member of the local Lions' club, an airplane spotter on regular duty and is on the substitute list for teachers at the Oceana high school. When the new USO auditorium in Norfolk was first discussed, Mr. Kelly's services as program director were sought, a post recently accepted by E. N. (Jim) McWilliams of radio fame. He was later offered the position of supervisor for USO in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland. Both of these positions were declined in favor of continued service at Virginia Beach.

Mr. Kelly's ability has been recognized and to him has been entrusted the training of assistant now serving in various USO clubs throughout the country. The local club has made splendid strides forward under his able leadership.

SCARLET FEVER

"Scarlet fever is an acute infectious disease, the onset of which is sudden. First symptoms include sore throat, vomiting, fever and headache; these are followed by the red rash which gives this disease its name. Scarlet fever is most prevalent during the late fall, winter, and spring. Three-fourths of the cases occur in children under ten years of age. Thus, primarily, it is a childhood disease, though it may occur at any age," states Dr. I. C. Rignin, State Health Commissioner.

"The germ causing scarlet fever has been known for many years. It is called the streptococcus. Most epidemics of this disease can be traced to the consumption of raw milk or to the use of milk handled by a milker or other person having a streptococcal sore throat. Pasteurizing such milk makes it safe to drink, since by this process the germ is destroyed, as are many other type of germs, when in raw milk.

"Incidentally, persons with sore throats never should prepare or handle food for others, as the hand that is coughed into, incidentally may place the germs of the particular infection involved in the food for the table, including milk.

"Three to five days after exposure to the disease the first symptoms of scarlet fever appear. A day or two later the rash appears. Complications produced by this malady may cause prolonged disability or death. For example, children suffering with scarlet fever have sinusitis and middle-ear infections which can lead to mastoiditis. The glands of the neck can become swollen and tender resulting in abscesses. As the germs spread through the child's system, the joints, kidneys and heart may become involved, causing life-long invalidism.

"The treatment of scarlet fever has been simplified by the use of the relatively new sulfonamide drugs. When used alone or with antitoxin and convalescent serum, they have proved to be very beneficial.

"A child with any kind of a sore throat should be seen by the family physician promptly. If a serious condition exists, such as scarlet fever, the treatment he recommends will do much to alleviate discomfort and reduce the possibility of complications.

LARGEST FLIGHT OF DUCKS PREDICTED SINCE 1910

A flight of 150,000,000 ducks southward is the revised prediction, as reported to the Secretary of the Interior by Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, after an inspection trip to the northern breeding grounds. This will be the biggest flight since 1910.

Ducks Unlimited has been predicting 125,000,000 birds, but favorable conditions at the close of the breeding season make it appear that the flight will be more nearly 150,000,000.

SOY BEAN SEEDS SHOULD BE SAVED

Blackburn—Farmers who now have good crops of adapted varieties of soybeans must save them for seed instead of selling them for oil if Virginia farmers are going to reach their increased 1944 soybean goal, W. H. Byrne, agronomist for the Virginia Agricultural Extension Division, declares.

It is particularly important that farmers who have good crops of such early varieties as Dunfield, Manchu, Scioto, Wood's Extra Early Yellow, and Wood's Medium Early Yellow, save them for seed, Byrne emphasizes.

These are not only good oil beans, but will mature seed in most any section of the state east of the mountains. Not only will they mature seed, but they will do so in time for small grain to follow them.

In order to be successful with soybeans next year, farmers under the Coastal Plain and lower Piedmont sections of Virginia must have a supply of seed of the early varieties, the agronomist says.

Farmers who have a supply of early soybean seed will be contributing far more to the war effort by holding them for seed for next spring's planting than by selling them for oil or any other purpose. Many more acres of soybeans would have been planted this spring if seed of adapted varieties could have been obtained.

As Others See It

BOMBS—THE TURN IN THE TIDE (New York Times)

It is difficult to think of any statistical table published since the outbreak of war that gives so impressive and dramatic a picture of the turn in the tide of battle as that published from London showing the comparative tonnage of German bombs dropped on Britain and of British bombs dropped on Germany in various three-month periods. The statistics in tons follow:

Period	British Bombs	German Bombs
Third quarter, 1940	2,750	18,900
Fourth quarter, 1940	2,500	17,700
First quarter, 1941	2,700	8,000
Second quarter, 1941	7,200	11,600
Third quarter, 1941	8,800	1,800
Fourth quarter, 1941	4,300	800
First quarter, 1942	3,500	250
Second quarter, 1942	12,300	1,700
Third quarter, 1942	15,600	600
Fourth quarter, 1942	5,600	250
First quarter, 1943	17,400	800
Second quarter, 1943	36,700	700

This table is far more graphic than a comparison of total bomb loads dropped by each side for the whole war period. For it shows more clearly the present situation, in which the British are raining bombs on Germany at a rate of better than 50 to 1. And these figures do not include bombs on occupied territory in Europe, the activity of the North-West African Air Forces or any United States bombing missions from England.

In the insistence of Russian leaders on a "second front" the importance of the tremendous air front established by the United States and Great Britain has been either overlooked or greatly underrated. It is estimated that in the air over Western Europe and in the Mediterranean the Allied forces engage fully 40 to 60 per cent of the Nazi air force and all of the Italian air force. According to one set of estimates coming from London, in fact, out of a present German air strength of about 4,100 combat planes, 2,000 are in Northwestern Europe and Western Germany, 900 in the Mediterranean sector and only 1,200 in Russia. But the air front has done more than merely divert half or more of the German air force from Russia; it has smashed innumerable factories and transport facilities, and kept an incalculable amount of Axis supplies from ever reaching the Eastern Front.

"SETTLING THE WORLD" (Peninsula Enterprise)

One of the favorite pursuits of former years, when friends met for social converse, was to discuss current questions of politics, world affairs, business, etc. They called it "settling the world."

They might not accomplish anything by thus airing their views, but they felt better after they got those ideas off their chests. After discussing things and ideas they did not like, they separated, rather content with the world, and satisfied that life was not so bad.

The experience of wartime, when people stay at home more, would seem favorable to such discussion. The neighbors will drop in, they will talk about the troubles of the times, and have many a laugh over humorous incidents. Their difficulties will not seem so serious when they have talked about them.

It seems easy enough to tell how the world's problems should be settled, when you discuss them at the fire. To occupy responsible positions and reconcile these settlements with contrary human nature, is not so easy.

NO GAS SIGNS

The OPA has lifted the ban on pleasure driving but it isn't going to mean much for the low stocks in the East are running out and coupons or no coupons many car owners are not going to be able to buy any of the precious petrol.

This once again the public is made the victim of poor planning and unsound policy. If the flannel-mouths at Washington would keep their mouths shut until supplies in the East have reached an adequate level and then a policy is announced that is in accordance with the facts, something like order might be redeemed out of the chaos which has attended the gas rationing program. Or is this too simple and too logical to expect?

Town and Farm

(Continued From Page One) enough farmers to "Keep Your War Equipment Fit and Fighting" are indications of plans now being laid by the War Food Administration to meet increased production goals for 1944. Suggestions for expanded wartime production have been sent for consideration to state Agricultural War Boards and other farm representatives. State boards have been asked to set 1944 goals. The national program calls for a record-breaking 380 million acres in crops. Problems relating to labor, machinery, supplies, conservation practices, and prices will be considered at 48 state meetings of state groups with representatives of WFA during October.

EASIER TO GET PRESSURE CANNERS

Pressure canners may be bought for individual home use under liberalized regulations now followed by the local agricultural War Boards. A person who needs a pressure canner may apply directly to the local County Farm Rationing Committee for a certificate of eligibility or ask that previously filed applications be reviewed under the new rulings.

SUGAR TO SAVE BEES

Beekeepers who are facing loss of their bees because of lack of sufficient natural food, may obtain additional sugar allotments if they are registered with OPA as industrial users. The supplemental allotment is limited to a maximum of 15 pounds per bee colony per year. Applications should be made in person or by mail to the local rationing board.

REPORT GOOD WHEAT CROP IN ITALY

In spite of the war, the Italian wheat crop this year is believed to have been as large or even larger than the pre-war average, according to the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations of the Department of Agriculture. The 1943 crop may have amounted to as much as 280 million bushels. That estimate compares with unofficial estimates of 268 million bushels last year.

GERMANY FAR FROM "COLLAPSE"

The German Army has nearly three times as many combat divisions in the field today as there were when the attack on Poland began four years ago. Major General George V. Strong, assistant chief of staff G-3 (Military Intelligence) declared recently. Discounting any likelihood of an early collapse of either Germany or Japan, General Strong disclosed that the Germans had replaced the 30 divisions lost at Stalingrad last winter, and that the German Luftwaffe was larger now than in 1939. He said also that the weapons the Germans are making are in some cases better than any which the United Nations have.

AMMUNITION PRICES SET

Ammunition for civilian use will be sold at or under prices prevailing in March, 1942, according to OPA ceilings which became effective October 7. Retail ceilings on boxes of 25 shotgun shells are $1.35 for 12 gauge and $1.25 for 16 and 20 gauge. Retail ceilings on boxes of 10 rim fire cartridges are 34 cents for 22 long rifle and 21 cents for 22 short, regular. Retail ceiling prices on boxes of 20 center fire cartridges range from $1.41 to $2.16 according to brand and type. Ammunition stores are required to post ceiling prices but may sell at lower prices.

POULTRY PRICE CHANGES

Reduction of 3½ cents a pound at retail in maximum prices of quick-frozen eviscerated poultry and 1 cent a pound on drawn poultry, and an increase of 1 cent a pound on dressed poultry have recently been announced by OPA. These price changes become effective October 12, 1943.

LANDINGS ARE GETTING TOUGHER

In a letter to a friend, vividly describing the American invasion of Italy at Salerno, William J. Forzythe, Chief Photographer's Mate, U.S.C.G., said: "The amphibious landings are getting monotonous in a ghastly sort of way. They're getting tougher as we go along, and don't let anybody kid you that the United States isn't paying a price for such places as Sicily and Salerno. Of course the radio reports and newspaper headlines sound very encouraging to the folks back home, but there's a lot of American boys getting killed, but I suppose that's the price of war."

TO RELIEVE LEATHER SOLE SHORTAGE

Synthetic rubber and plastics will be used to help relieve this winter's leather shoe sole shortage, according to WFB. The output of rubber soles will be used on rationed shoes and for shoe repair.

HELP FARMERS GET TRUCK PARTS

Farmers unable to get needed parts for trucks can get help by taking the matter to the nearest Office of Defense Transportation office. The ODT has 142 district offices throughout the country, each with a maintenance specialist and a special Maintenance Committee on which are garage and service station men, dealers, and parts suppliers with a special duty of helping find needed parts.

ONE QUESTION QUIZ

Q. Why are point values set so high on canned pineapple, vacuum-packed whole kernel corn, tomato catsup, and other items? A. OPA says that the point value of each item is figured on the basis of its supply and the amount that can be moved into consumption from month to month without draining the supply to too low a level. Any item which moves faster than its scheduled movement is increased in point value. If it moves below schedule the point value is lowered.

Make Home Compost Bed

Instead of burning dead leaves and dry grass from the lawn and dried up weeds, vines, and plants left in the garden, the foresighted Victory gardener will use them to start a compost heap for the future gardens. Vegetable trimmings and leafy refuse from the kitchen add valuable materials to the compost heap.

A compost to improve garden soil. Finished compost is a well-turned or well-spaded mixture of soil and decayed plant material, usually with manure or commercial fertilizer added.

To Make Simple Compost Heap. Start a heap six or seven feet square, with a two or three-inch layer of soil. Follow with a six-inch layer of waste such as leaves, grass and dead vines or plants (but avoiding pine needles or very heavy weed stalks). Then alternate these layers, keeping the sides vertical and the top either flat or domed. Boards or old fencing may be used to hold the compost heap together. It may be built up four or five feet high.

To assist in the rotting, water the heap enough to keep it damp clear through and add to each layer of plant waste from animal and poultry manures, or a few handfuls of a complete fertilizer high in nitrogen, cottonseed meal or similar nitrogen-containing plant food. The soil in the compost heap absorbs the products of the decayed vegetable matter, prevents loss, and makes compost convenient to handle.

Do not add lime or wood ashes to the compost heap, because they may cause loss of nitrogen from the fermenting vegetable matter.

Improves Condition of Soil. Turn the pile two or three times a year to make good compost. It takes a year or more to make fine compost, although a rough, usable product may be made in less time.

Good rich top soil is also an added help to the Victory Garden of next year. This soil is available in many communities and the results in next year's garden will justify the purchase of this rich loam. Now is the time to start preparing for bigger and better gardens in 1944.

NOW that the leaves are turning brown, it's high time to start getting things ship-shape for winter. A leaky roof or a barn door that blows off its hinges can ruin a lot of feed. And there's no feed to spare.

The best cure for a leaky roof is a good dose of Southern States Plastic Roof Cement to fill in the holes and cracks. Then go over the roof with a coat of Southern States Liquid Asbestos Roof Coating.

If the roof needs replacing, your Southern States Service Agency still has good stocks of durable tar paper roofing with a thick coating of asphalt.

Paint is good protection against the weather... but did you ever stop to think that it's good protection against fire too? A painted surface is less apt to catch fire... and it's better insulated... against cold winter weather. Southern States Super Barn Paint gives a tough, long-lasting film that preserves the wood and protects the surface. Drop in and let your Southern States Service Agency estimate the cost of painting your barn or any other buildings that need protection.

The minute the cold weather comes, rats will start to seek shelter... and first thing you know you'll be harboring a whole army of the pests and feeding them, too. Rat-proof your feed storage room, get rid of all rubbish... and then start a poisoning campaign with Liquid Arsenical Rat Poison which you can get at your Southern States Service Agency. The man at your local Service Agency is an old hand at getting rid of rats—ask him for some pointers.

USE A FACT! That every Southern States Service Agency has a full stock of facts on the requirements of 55 pages.

C. Fred Bonney

During the Third War Loan campaign just ended, Mr. Bonney served as Norfolk chairman for the committee of the Virginia League of Building and Loan Associations.

Born in Princess Anne county, Mr. Bonney was a son of Claudius W. and Margaret H. Bonney. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Claudia Priour Bonney; one son, Maj. Frederick Priour Bonney, USA, now stationed in Washington; three sisters, Mrs. Baker Hoskins of Wellington, Texas; Mrs. John McPherson of Athens, Ga., and Mrs. W. V. Davis of Savannah, Ga.; one brother, E. K. Bonney of Savannah, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at noon Thursday in the chapel of the H. D. Oliver Funeral Apartments, 1501 Colonial avenue, with the Rev. Jason L. MacMillan, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

ORDER FERTILIZER THIS FALL

W. H. Byrne, agronomist for the Virginia Agricultural Extension, advises all farmers to order fertilizer for next spring. Deliveries are slow. There is a shortage of tank cars. Delay in ordering fertilizer needs may mean delay in planting certain crops for 1944. Don't wait for the salesman to come around. Phone, write or place orders in person now.

Farmers who order their fertilizer early have a better chance of getting the analysis they desire. Because of a shortage of potash, late orders may get less potash than early ones.

CUT EXPECTED IN SHOE RATION

The new shoe stamp, No. 1, on the "airplane" sheet in War Ration Book Three, which becomes valid November 1, probably will have to last six months, OPA has announced. At the same time OPA said that stamp 18, originally scheduled to expire October 31, is extended indefinitely and will overlap the next stamp. OPA's present plan is to eliminate expiration dates on shoe stamps and to make new stamps valid as soon as supplies warrant. This enables a person to save shoe stamps until shoes are needed.

TO ISSUE RATION BOOK FOUR

War Ration Book Four, which will last approximately two years, will be issued to more than 120 million persons through schoolhouse distributions during the last 10 days of October, OPA has announced. The book combines point and unit stamps. It has eight pages containing 384 stamps, printed in blue, red, green and black.

Persons registering must have a War Ration Book Three for each person for whom they are obtaining Book Four. Stamps labeled "coffee" in Book Four were printed before coffee rationing was discontinued. Any rumors that it is to be resumed are unfounded, OPA says.

CUT FOOTBALL TRAVEL

All school, college and other football teams have been asked by the Office of Defense Transportation to confine the sale and distribution of tickets to the residents of the local area of the cities in which the games are to be played. By so restricting sales, ODT pointed out, football games can be held without increasing the already heavy load on inter-city buses and trains.

Housing Registry Opens at Chamber of Commerce

National Housing Agency Requests Listing of Available Rooms and Apartments

Eligible Civilian War Workers May Apply for Rooms

The National Housing Agency has inaugurated a housing registry at Virginia Beach for the benefit of civilian war workers, and has asked all persons having rooms for rent to register them for the benefit of these essential workers.

The Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Agency in this project, and will undertake the registry in their office at 16th Street. They will accept both the registration of rooms or housekeeping facilities and applications from eligible war workers. Workers to whom the service is available must meet certain eligibility standards before rooms are made available to them.

Oceana Bombing Squadron Has Bond Rally

Legionnaires Donate Hall

Meeting of Unit 113 Will Be Held October 21

A Bond Rally was held in the Legion hall on 19th Street, Thursday, October 7. The affair was under the auspices of the Officers' Bombing Squadron of the Oceana Air Field and the enlisted men of that unit. The Legionnaires donated the hall for the occasion. The sale of bonds was considered a great success.

Legionnaires to Meet Oct. 21
The regular business meeting of the Legionnaires will be held in the Legion hall on October 21. Old and new business will be under discussion and reports will be heard from various standing committees.

The usual drawing of Defense stamps will take place. The winner at the last two meetings has been Friday Roberts.

At the conclusion of the business session, beer and oysters will be served to members attending the meeting.

Conference in Charlottesville
The fall conference will be held in Charlottesville, Va., October 23 and 24. It is hoped that as many members as possible will attend this meeting. Arrangements will be made for those who feel they can attend at the meeting on October 21.

Red Cross Calls For More Nurses

The Army and the Navy are issuing more calls daily for doctors and nurses. To replace these many retired professional nurses are taking their places and more people are joining the American Red Cross Home Nursing classes and enrolling for duty as Nurse's aides than ever before. This helps a great deal to alleviate the shortage of professional nurses in hospitals.

The three-way job of nursing today is like a triangle. To provide the thousands of nurses needed at the top, more thousands are needed as nurse's aides on the supporting sides, while at the base, hundreds of thousands are needed to protect the home against sickness and the dangers of war-time epidemic.

Triangles are a three-way job—overseas, in civilian hospitals, and in the home. The way is open for anyone to satisfy her hidden desire for service by joining in the fight against the increasing need for professional medical care.

October is the month of recruitment for nurses. Practically every Red Cross Chapter in the nation will be called upon to seek out the retired nurse, to recruit new nurses for commissions in the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, to enroll women who can devote a few hours daily or weekly in hospital work and train them as nurse's aides, and to enroll hundreds of thousands of women in Red Cross Home Nursing courses in both rural and urban sections of the nation.

Joseph Lhevinne Concert Monday

William and Mary Concert Series Opens With Piano Virtuoso

All Season Tickets Sold Few Box Office Seats Left

The William & Mary Concert Series will open the season with a piano recital by Josef Lhevinne. This first concert will be held in the new USO auditorium.

In a world filled with dazzling pianists, Josef Lhevinne stands at the very top. His first public appearance was at the age of eight. Fate played into his hands with the loan of a piano, a wealthy man giving him his studies at the Moscow Conservatory, from which he graduated at the age of 17. Anton Rubenstein, upon hearing him became so enthusiastic over Lhevinne's talent that he adopted him as his pupil and taught him the secrets of piano mastery which had taken a lifetime to gain. Interned during the first war in Germany, he later took up his residence in America where he has made his home with his wife who, in her own right, is a concert pianist.

Mrs. Cornelia Grann Hancock, concert manager, said that her organization already has sold its limit of season tickets, 1,125, leaving only 75 single seats available to the general public. The demand for the singles, she said, assures that they probably will be sold within a few days, and if this is the case there will be no box office sale.

Such tickets as are not sold by the coming week end, however, will be placed on sale downtown in Norfolk Saturday, she said. Lhevinne will appear Monday night, September 18, at the new Norfolk Auditorium Concert hall.

Oceana Defeats Morrison 6-0

Capt. Allen Out of Game After 1st Quarter

On Friday, October 8, on the Oceana Athletic field, the maroon and white team played good football in defeating the well drilled and hard charging team from Morrison high school, 6 to 0.

Soon after the opening kick-off it was seen that the two teams were evenly matched. In fact, both teams had chances to score but were lacking the necessary punch until late in the second quarter, when a pass to right end Kenneth Torr, placed the ball in Morrison territory when quarter back Hoggess tossed a pass to Lee Gregory for a touch down.

Coach Myers was without the service of Captain Allen after the first quarter when he went out with a bad ankle.

The line-up of the two teams: Oceana—

L. E. Webber; L. T. Markovitz; L. G. Paxton; Center, Byrd; R. G. Flanagan; R. T. Rust; R. E. Torr. Backs, Allen, Gregory, Hogg, Powell. Substitutes, Baily, Payne, Robertson, Wales.

Morrison—

L. E. Lee; L. T. Sweet; L. G. Bonnet; Center, Fox; R. G. Massey; R. T. Gayle; R. E. Forbes. Backs, Seward, Taylor, Banes, Dobbs. Substitutes, Hudson, Crowsall, Moore, Cockran, Curtis, Howell.

EMMANUEL PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Historic Kempsville Church Burned Tuesday Morning

Fire of Undetermined Origin Completely Destroys Interior

Neighbors and Sailors Save Furnishings

Historic Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church at Kempsville was practically destroyed early Tuesday morning by fire. The church which so recently celebrated its 100th anniversary has nothing left but the four brick walls standing in the lovely grove of old trees.

The cause of the fire is unknown but it is thought to have started in the basement. It was discovered before dawn by a group of sailors en route to the Naval Station at Creeds, Princess Anne county. As the trucks sped along the dark roads the flames could be seen from several miles before the village of Kempsville came in view. Upon reaching the bend in the road that brought the church into the line of vision, the sailors driving the trucks pulled to the side of the road and stopped.

The sailors rushed into the burning building and began the task of removing everything possible. The pews, electric fans, the organ and other movable articles were brought to safety and placed on the wide lawns that surrounded the burning church. The parish records were burned.

It was said that the action of the sailors saved many valuable church possessions.

Later a pumper was sent to the scene from Norfolk. The parish house, a short distance from the church, was not damaged.

It was to have been the scene of the wedding on Wednesday evening of Miss Elizabeth Frances Whitehead, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Whitehead, and the Rev. Nell Irvin Gray of Hollidaysburg, Pa. The ceremony took place at Old Donation church with the Rev. Francis Gray, rector and the Rev. R. J. Sudlow of Hohenock, N. J. officiating. Mr. Gray is rector of Emmanuel as well as Old Donation and Epiphany churches.

Vestry Decides to Rebuild

At a meeting of the Vestry of the church on Wednesday evening, it was decided to rebuild as soon as plans could be formulated. There is $5,000 insurance which will be sufficient only for the beginning and plans were discussed for raising additional funds. Emmanuel Episcopal church is one of the historic landmarks of Virginia, of interest not only to its own parishioners but to those who love the traditions of its community.

Many interested friends have approached Mr. Gray, rector, expressing the desire to participate by a financial contribution to the rebuilding of the church. Voice—

This excellent showing should make Princess Anne county an outstanding unit in Virginia and one which has measured up and surpassed highest expectations.

New Home for St. Vincent de Paul Nurses

James R. Edmunds, Jr., of Baltimore, Architect and M. Millemet Contractor

The nursing staff of the new St. Vincent de Paul hospital in Norfolk will have a new fireproof building for living quarters. M. Millemet and associates are contractors for the building designed by James R. Edmunds, Jr., architect, of Baltimore.

The two-story concrete and brick building will contain living quarters for approximately 100 nurses, classrooms and laboratory facilities for instruction of student nurses. The building is scheduled to be completed by March 31.

Equipment for the nurse's home and training school will be supplied by St. Vincent de Paul hospital. The cost of construction, estimated at $340,000, will be financed by the Federal Works Agency with Lanham Act funds.

Coffee Supplies Now Ample for All Needs

NEW YORK—Coffee supplies in the nation's warehouses are now at a war-time high.

"Not only are grocers supplied with ample stocks," according to Francis M. Kurts of A & P's coffee-buying affiliate, "but the amount of coffee in warehouses has reached a war-time high. On Dec. 31, 1942, there were 1,492,812 bags on hand in comparison to an August 31, 1943 inventory which showed 4,184,270 bags.

"Supplies for civilian consumption are more than sufficient now that the needs of the armed forces have been met."

Mrs. Kurts's advice to persons storing coffee away for future needs is to use it up and then buy in accordance with weekly requirements. "Nothing is more important to the coffee drinker," he pointed out, "than to have fresh coffee used in the pot or percolator. When it is stored too long after being ground, coffee loses its fine flavor and aroma."

Persistent rumors that a renewal of coffee rationing was in prospect were definitely denied in an official OPA statement recently issued at Washington.

Princess Anne County to Receive All Articles

Request for Old Clothes Also Made

The Virginia Beach branch of the Needlework Guild will have on display the articles donated for this year's ingathering, on Thursday, October 28 at 3:00 p. m. in the Parish House of the Galilee Episcopal church.

Due to war conditions the customary tea will not be held this year, but members and interested friends of the organization are invited to visit the Parish House and see the display of articles.

All For County Use
Everything contributed to the Guild will be kept in Princess Anne county and will be distributed, according to the need, through the various agencies as follows: O.C.D., Mrs. Russell Simmons, chairman; the need in the public schools, Miss Mary Kellam; Miss Lillian Ashley and Miss Helen Reed will have charge of distribution through the County Nurse agency and the Infant Sanitarium through its board of directors.

Old Clothes Needed
There is also an urgent need for discarded clothes which are still usable. These old garments will not take the place of the two new articles requested but the Needlework Guild directors will appreciate any articles of clothing which can be used and will distribute them where most needed.

All Virginia Unit Marine Corps Women's Reserve to Be Formed

"Old Dominion Platoon" to Train at Camp Lejeune

The United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve has announced that it is enlisting a special training unit made up from patriotic young women of Virginia. This announcement was made public by Captain Herschel H. MacCubbin, USMCR, Officer in Charge of Marine Recruiting in Virginia.

The unit will be known as the "Old Dominion Platoon," and the girls in this area who join the Women's Reserve of the Marine Corps during the next few weeks will have the unusual opportunity of going through their recruit training with local girls who share the same interests and ideas.

Official approval has been received from Marine Corps Headquarters in Washington, D. C., permitting this privileged group to leave together for their training at the huge training base at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., and while there to live together, eat together and train together.

Starting Monday, October 11, applications were accepted from young women between the ages of 20 and 35 inclusive, who are interested in joining the special group of Lady Leathernecks.

Additional to the advantage of training side by side with one's own friends, is the fact that the entire commonwealth of Virginia will have a personal interest in every girl in the group. Every citizen will have a special share in the pride which the whole nation feels for these girls who answer their country's call to "Free a Marine to Fight."

Official headquarters for the enlistment of the "Old Dominion Platoon" is at the U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Room 300, 224 East Broad St., Richmond, Virginia. Information and applications may be also obtained from the nearest Marine Recruiting Office.

SAVE WATER TO SAVE FUEL
Because it usually takes fuel to pump water, the U. S. government asks water users to repair leaky faucets and other leaky plumbing fixtures. Saving of water may also save on the manpower required to make it available as well as the chemicals required to treat it.

DOUBLE PARKING

Now that the summer season is over, and a large number of guests have left the Beach, the news feels that a little constructive criticism is in order. We have refrained from an expression while visitors were in our midst but the situation has grown from bad to worse in regards to double parking on 17th Street and other congested areas on Atlantic Avenue.

The parking situation has gone from one extreme to another. Several months ago, cars were being arbitrarily hauled from the street for parking one minute over the time limit and a fine placed on the owner of the car. Now a driver may park a car in the middle of the street on each side, blocking rows of cars, and motorists or attend to any other business and in many instances completely hemming in the person next to the curb, who, in order to try to get some action from the double parked car, will rear down on the horn until some one finally comes to let them out. Driveways are blocked and general inconvenience caused, to say nothing of congesting traffic and scratching bumpers, one of which was torn completely from a car in an effort to get by the car in the middle of the street.

Either the police department is unmindful of the condition or has run out of "yellow tags." Something should be done about it.

THE WAR IS NOT WON!

The Third War Loan Drive is over and Princess Anne County almost doubled the allotted quota. The end is not in sight, our men are still on the fighting front and until they come home our obligation continues. We must go with them all the way. Not just with what we say but what we do. Our hearts, our lips and our pocketbooks are the means of showing the Patriotism needed to win the war.

There is nothing that we can do that will be more costly than to assume the attitude that the war is almost won. There is still the necessity to buy more bonds, pay taxes and pitch in at home whenever and wherever the opportunity presents itself for service. The cost of this war has such magnitude that it is hard to comprehend its greatness but when we realize that World War II is costing seven times as much as the last war, it gives a small idea what the people on the home front are obligated to do.

Check the Attack to the Limit, Buy Bonds!

THE LESSON OF COLUMBUS

By Ruth Taylor

"Behind him lay the gray Azores, behind, the Gates of Hercules; before him not the ghost of shores, before him only shoreless seas." So begins Joquin Miller's great poem on Columbus—a poem for all those who are facing a time of danger. Columbus had only a belief by which to sail. He set out into an unknown ocean, with the fears of more timid men behind him, with fabulous monsters and unknown perils before him. His crew mutinied, his second in command, Columbus, was in command and anxious that the voyage should be placed in the hands of a man—a plan which was new, and which was men swore could never be carried out. But he did it. He set his course straight ahead, and stuck to it. The monsters did not appear—but unforeseen hardships did. The ships were becalmed for days in the doldrums; that patch of ocean where the wind seldom blows. The provisions and water ran low, and the ocean was wider than his wildest calculations. But still he went on.

What he faced, we face today. We face the difficulties of curtailing what we desire for necessities of men to pull us through the inaction of the doldrums. We will have to meet with and handle mutinous subversive forces and envious, self-seeking leaders. But where Columbus had the idea of a new road to the Indies, we have the ideal of a new world, where democracy will have an opportunity to progress, and where all men will be free. If we steer straight ahead, along the course we know to be right, with our faith in the sanctity of the individual and in the freedom of all men to be free and equal, as our guiding star, we will reach our goal. But we must persevere and take the original meaning—we must follow through.

"The good mate said: 'Now must we pray For lo! the very stars are gone, Brave Admiral speak: what shall I say?'"

"Why say: 'Sail on! Sail on! And on!'"

Then pale and worn, he paced his deck, And peered through darkness. Ah, that night! Of all dark nights! and then a speck— A light! A light! At last a light! It grew, a starlight flag unfurled! It grew to be Time's barge of dawn. He gained a world, he gave that world Its grandest lesson: "On! Sail on!"

FRIENDSHIP IN WARTIME

A common danger in wartime has cemented the friendship of the United States and Great Britain. This is, of course, being demonstrated in our jointly successful military operations. But, behind the lines also, the same friendship is producing important results.

Parents of American soldiers will most certainly welcome the news that, under reverse lend-lease procedure, the British government has set aside club houses in England, Scotland and Wales, for the use of American seamen who sail the Atlantic convoys, survivors of bombings and torpedoings, sailors on shore leave and others who await assignments as crew replacements.

The club houses are provided with everything to make American seamen comfortable—from beds to ping-pong balls. In the Glasgow club houses alone, over one thousand shipwrecked seamen have been cared for in the past seven months. This is a commendable work—creating friendship between two great nations.

The British-built Churchill Hospital in Oxford for the use of American troops, members of the WAVC, and sailors of the United States Merchant Marine, is a good example of how lend-lease operates. For, it is difficult to tell just how much of the equipment in this hospital is American and how much is British. The x-ray machine, for instance, is American, but the plates used are British.

Undeniably, there is a lot of hate and jealousy in the world and a lot of other things that drive men apart and make them enemies. It is the more gratifying, therefore, to observe that one of the results of this war is turning out to be a firmer friendship between the two great English-speaking nations of the world. We can stand more friendship like that on all hands. Let's encourage it.

As Others See It

GOSSLER FORECAST

(Winchester Evening Star) The American people should be able to celebrate Thanksgiving this year with the traditional turkey as a result of the Department of Agriculture's forecast of a normal crop of gobblers. The estimate is that the 1943 turkey crop will be approximately the same as last year's—33,000,000 birds, or 3 per cent fewer than the record number produced in 1940.

The nation's turkey growers had planned to meet an average of 1943 crop of 33,000,000 birds—a plan

NATIONAL NEWS OF NOTE

PRICE FIXING RUNS WILD

The American people have read in recent news reports that the OPA has filed complaints against certain of the nation's large variety store companies, charged that they are in violation of MPRS-330 which contains a price line limitation provision that prohibits any concern from selling any goods at price lines higher than those carried in March, 1942. The fact that the price lines handled back in March, 1942, may no longer be available from manufacturers, seems to mean nothing to the OPA.

Among companies that have been cited are F. W. Woolworth Co., McCrory Stores, J. J. Newberry Co., Murphy Co., H. L. Green Co., Neider Bros., W. T. Grant Co., and J. C. Penney Co. OPA has failed to control wholesale and manufacturing costs and prices for inexpensive lines of women's and children's clothing. Now it is trying to prevent stores from making those practical adjustments in price lines which must be made in order to supply customers with the best available values from obtainable supplies today.

It is impossible for any fair-minded person to understand OPA's reasoning when it says it is illegal for a store to add a line of children's dresses at $3.98 when the highest priced line previously carried was $3.96—particularly if no more dresses are available at the $3.96 price or if the store wishes to sell a better dress for $4.98.

Regulation of this type has very serious implications which go away beyond what effect it may have on the stores in question or other companies which may later be cited. It is an attempt to prohibit certain perfectly legitimate activities within specified lines of business, and to regulate the business itself instead of regulating prices. If this particular regulation is continued, it will wipe out countless small merchants whose volume comes primarily from the sale of low-priced women's and children's outer wear. Such administration makes a mockery out of the real intent of laws passed by Congress to establish reasonable wartime controls of essential civilian commodities.

CARGOES IN THE SKY

A few dramatic incidents, picked from the flight logs of Liberator Express transports, can now be told with permission of the War Department—and they give a suggestion of the future of this new form of cargo shipment. Military airports locked by blitzards in the frozen Alaska wastes sent an SOS for snowplows, which were loaded aboard a Liberator and dispatched in time to clear the runways. Tank trucks were cut in half for shipment by air to Labrador, and welded together again at their destination. Bombers, unasssembled with spare and replacement parts have been shipped to world fronts. These random notes of air cargo use, listed by Consolidated Vultec Aircraft Corp., which designed and built the Liberator, suggest that express planes when they are freed from military needs may be used to meet nearly any emergency which can arise. Flood-stricken communities, isolated towns and merely the snowbound villages of Whittier's poetic description need no longer fear they'll be cut off from supplies.

DOWN TO THE GUNWALS

Farmers and the food sellers find themselves in a boat which is being so overloaded with price restrictions and regulations that it is close to foundering.

Commenting on this situation, Albert S. Goss, President of the National Grange, in addressing the National Association of Food Chains, said:

"Food is rapidly becoming the world's number one problem. We are waking up to the fact that the United States has not been feeding itself for the past ten years; that we have imported more food than we have exported. Because of some very unwise OPA policies, we are prevented from raising the maximum amount of needed food. The average farm prices are high enough. Some commodities may be too high, while others are definitely too low.

"The OPA is supplanting the laws of nature with the laws of the steel chair. The mistake is made of violating all laws of economics by trying to force all prices into a common mold. When we set ceilings, based on average costs, we strangle the production of those commodities with costs above the ceilings, and create shortages. A frost may take 90 per cent of the Georgia peach crop, and if we try to hold Georgia peach growers to the same price level as in an area with a bumper crop, the Georgia peach growers will go broke. These unworkable directives create impossible conditions which will eventually blow up."

CLEAN OWN HOUSE FIRST

The most popular political pastime today is planning a new post-war world.

But before the United States can take any great part in such a world, it will have to set its own house in order.

Less, continuing production is the only basis for financing our government and maintaining adequate living standards and a feeling of personal security. In the United States under a private enterprise system, living standards reached a world peak and provided real independence and security for a greater population than in other countries.

So, while planning the postwar world, our planners might as well get down to earth and consider practical plans for encouraging expansion of private enterprise at home.

Only a policy of moderate taxation after the war will encourage individual initiative. Exorbitant taxes add to the price of goods, depress employment and deter investment and risk taking.

"Moderate business taxes," says Harley L. Lutz, professor of public finance, Princeton University, in The Tax Review, "that would release the full driving power of production at adequate wages and profits, mean that as soon as the war is over the excess profits tax and the surtax should be repealed, the normal rate should be reduced to some point within the range applied from 1918 to 1932. In no case should the rate exceed 20 per cent."

produced in 1942. The expected increase failed to materialize because of a number of factors: Reduction of animal protein in feeding; mashes, floods in the Midwest, and late spring in the North, all of which delayed laying and hatching.

Another factor was the increased losses suffered by turkey flocks from predatory animals which were able to take a larger toll because of the shortage of ammunition and the consequent curtailment of hunting.

The normal number of turkeys may not mean that every one who wants a turkey will be able to have one for Thanksgiving. The men in the armed forces also enjoy turkey and first choice of the crop will go to the military. But it is such things as the Thanksgiving turkey, whether eaten in the home or far away in a camp or on a ship at sea, which count to furnish every one of the necessities for making certain that the coming peace shall continue for all Thanksgiving to come.

EACH EMPLOYEE MUST HAVE SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

Every new employee of an industrial plant or commercial concern should make sure that his employer has seen his social security account card and has made a note of the social security number shown thereon. Men and women who are employed in canning factories during the canning season and work for part of the year on farms; young people holding their first jobs in business or industry; and in fact everyone who has a job that is covered under the Social Security Act has a right to expect that the wages they have earned during the past three months will be included in their employers' next quarterly payroll report to the Government. But unless the employer knows the social security number of each employee, he will not be able to include that number in his report.

The Law requires that each employer who is subject to the Social Security Act, shall make a quarterly payroll tax return to the Federal Government. The report for the third quarter of 1943 must be mailed to the Bur-reau of Internal Revenue before the last day of October. This tax return or wage report will give the name, the social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to every employee during the preceding quarter—that is, July, August and September. "The information given by the employer in his report is transmitted to the Social Security Board and is used by that agency in setting up its wage record system," Mr. T. Bosworth Hulcher, manager of the Norfolk office of the Social Security Board, explained. He also said that accuracy is most important because benefits payable, later on, to the worker or to his survivors are based upon the wage record that is kept for the worker by the Social Security Board.

Social Security Cards

Mr. Hulcher today issued a warning to banks, stores and other business concerns who have occasion to cash checks for the public, regarding the acceptance of social security cards as personal identification. It has been learned that in various large cities, throughout the country, blank checks which were stolen from business houses have been filled out and cashed, on the strength of a social security card which the payee presented as identification. One thief was brought to justice after he had forged and cashed six different checks, using social security cards in each instance as identification.

Another report says that a group of five boys used this precarious method of securing money. They obtained checks, in various ways, and used their own social security cards as identification. The fact that the boys landed in jail was of little solace to the banks and the merchants who cashed their forged checks, for it was the payer in each case who was left to bear the loss.

FOOD FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM

THE BEST available estimates indicate that 15% of all food purchased is wasted in homes.

Before the war, we might have considered such waste only in the light of money extravagantly spent. But in wartime, such waste is a dangerous abuse of war material...for food is a weapon of war! Help food fight for freedom by remembering these six points:

- PLAN...to save buying more than you need.
- SELECT...to save waste and food value.
- STORE...to save the food value you have purchased.
- COOK...to save minerals and vitamins.
- SERVE...to save waste on the plate.
- EAT...to save the HEALTH OF OUR NATION.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ABATEMENT OF PENALTIES AND INTEREST ON CERTAIN TAXES ASSESSED AGAINST PERSONS IN THE ARMED FORCES OF THE UNITED STATES.

Whereas, by Act of the General Assembly of Virginia, approved March 13, 1942, Chapter 199, the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, were authorized and empowered to provide by Ordinance for the abatement of penalties and interest on certain taxes assessed against persons in the Armed Forces of the United States, therefore,

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, as follows:

That any person who, on or after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and forty-one, associated with any real estate, personal property, income or capital tax for any year during all or any part of which he is in the armed forces of the United States, may, during the period of such service and within one year after it is terminated, pay the principal of such tax or taxes without the addition of any penalty or interest thereon. Such officer shall be satisfied from the proof submitted that such person was actually in such service for such year or years, and shall make out in duplicate a certificate to that effect, which certificate shall show the details of the penalties and interest involved. One copy shall be given to the taxpayer and the other retained by the collecting officer as evidence that he is entitled to a credit in his accounts for the amount of penalty and interest so abated.

in the perpetuation of the parish in the opinion that it would be a privilege to have a part in a program which would mean the continuation of a shrine of such historic significance.

BROOMS TO COST MORE

Consumers will pay about six cents more for household brooms made wholly or partly of broomcorn, because of a recent OPA order. This increase was granted to reflect recently established ceiling prices for broom corn.

OPA SETS APPLE CEILING PRICE

Apples for home consumption will sell at a season's national retail average of between 10 and 11 cents a pound. Maximum prices for apples were set recently as one of the first steps in OPA's program to extend control over the prices of fresh fruits and vegetables to keep down the cost of living. As in the case of eggs, prices will vary by the month to reflect storage and other charges.

WFA GIVES FEEDING SUGGESTIONS

To make the nation's supply of livestock feed produce the maximum amount of food, the War Food Administration says hogs should be marketed at lighter weights than during the past two years and 1944 spring farrowing should be held substantially below that of last spring. These measures will be necessary, WFA says, if livestock numbers and feed supply are to be held in balance. WFA urges very best use of roughage and pasture for sheep and cattle. In general, WFA points out, if feeders hold down the weights to which they feed their meat animals, they'll get maximum output of meat per pound of feed used. To conserve feed, WFA recommends heavy culling of range herds.

FARM LABOR SITUATION HELPED

Three hundred thousand more men of military age were put to work on farms during the first six months of this year than in the same months of 1942, because of draft deferment and other measures taken to conserve agricultural labor. The number was sufficient to offset net losses of workers of military age from farms during the last half of 1942, according to the Department of Agriculture.

USED EGG CASE CEILING HIGHER

To encourage the gathering and reconditioning of used egg cases for the handling of this year's forecast record egg crop of 80 billion eggs, OPA has increased the ceiling prices on used egg crates. The new ceilings, effective Monday, October 11, gave the men who collect used cases for reconditioning, a spread of 5 cents between the maximum prices they may pay "emptiers" and top prices at which they may sell to reconditioners. This extra 2 cents is expected to encourage gathering of empty cases from retail grocers, dairy stores, neighborhood bakeries, and other small "emptiers." New ceilings also give reconditioners a spread of 10 cents for reconditioning used cases.

U. S. Grant to Aid Beach Water Supply

Additional Pipe Lines to Serve Entire Section

Rep. Winder R. Harris announced this week that President Roosevelt has approved Federal Works Agency grants for funds to be used to improve the water system in Norfolk and Princess Anne county and two grants for school additions in Norfolk.

Virginia Beach suffered great inconvenience last summer by the lack of adequate water supply. This condition should be greatly relieved by the proposed new 20-inch pipe line which will run from the Moore's Bridges Pumping Station to Laskin Road Booster Station and a 10-inch line from there to Virginia Beach.

Further improvement in the county will be the addition of a 12-inch line from Laskin road booster station to Camp Pendleton and an 8-inch line from Camp Pendleton to Dam Neck.

This entire section obtains its supply of water from Norfolk.

Still Discovered in State Park

THREE ARRESTS MADE

A still which someone had set up in the State Park presumably on the theory that such a location would hardly be suspect was raided last week by Alcoholic Tax Unit and State ABC agents who destroyed the still, seized 35 gallons of whiskey and made three arrests.

Those arrested were named by the officers as Alton Davis, 46, of 904 Sheldon avenue, Wesley T. Chappelle, 39, of 1031 East Brambleton avenue, and Rutherford M. Whitehorn, 26, who gave his address as a houseboat in Inland.

The still, which was located a short distance off the Old Trail about one-quarter mile from the west gate to Fort Story, consisted of a 50-gallon, brickied-up boiler, a new copper coil, mash barrels and the other usual equipment. Thirty-five gallons of newly run whiskey found at the still was tested with an alcoholometer and was found to be 100 proof. It was "clear as crystal," the officers said.

The men caught at the still declined to tell officers how they got the sugar used in distilling the whiskey or how they got the new copper coil without a special permit.

Soldier and Wife Apprehended
A by-product of the raid was the apprehension of a soldier and his wife who were found to be "squatting" in a building of an abandoned work camp near the still site. The soldier was not connected with the still but was found to be AWOL, so he was turned over to military authorities.

Those taking part in the raid were John A. Millan and E. A. Dearden, of the Alcoholic Tax Unit, and E. P. Kelly, E. W. Meigs and E. J. Fentress, of the State ABC enforcement staff.

Josef Lhevinne Dedicates Norfolk's New Concert Hall

Audience of 1,600 Enjoyed Opening Concert of William & Mary Series

The new concert hall in Norfolk was the setting for the first concert of the season on Monday evening when Josef Lhevinne, virtuoso pianist, had the honor of dedicating the new hall. This first presentation of the William & Mary Concert series has set a high mark for future performances to strive for. Josef Lhevinne's superb performance and rendition of Bach-Busoni, Chopin, Debussy, Schubert-Liszt, thrilled for two hours, an audience of 1,600. The acoustics of the new building made possible the perfect enjoyment of a beautiful program as rendered in simplicity of style and depth of feeling.

Albemarle Hall Closes for Season

The Lodge to Open November 15

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Smith have closed Albemarle Hall for the season and are leaving for West Palm Beach, Florida, where they will open their winter home.

The Mariner Inn, for the winter season, The Lodge, the annex adjoining the Inn, will be opened for guests November 15, and the main building will be ready by December 20.

For many years, Mr. Smith's local friends have followed him to Florida during the winter season. Many of his employees serve in both places.

Hunting Adds to Family Larder

125 Million Duck Estimate Conservative

Fish Sanctuary Favored at Willoughby

This year hunting is more than a sport, for sportmen can add to the family larder and help farmers "harvest" wild fowl eating their grain. Last Fall, American hunters "cropped" more than 254 million pounds of wild game meat - venison, elk, moose, rabbits, pheasants, and wild fowl. This year game laws are liberal and the War Production Board has made about 42 million shotgun shells and approximately 12 million rifle cartridges available to hunters.

Word comes from Ducks Limited in Canada that the 125 million duck estimate given earlier in the season was very conservative.

Indian Summer brought late broods along and cold weather the first of September nipped botulism outbreaks. Everywhere duck flights begin to look like "old times."

Feeding Ground Threatened
The State Game and Inland Fisheries is unable at present to repair the sand embankment in Back Bay. The embankment was constructed to separate the ocean from Back Bay, so as to prevent salt water from destroying the wild celery and other natural feed for wild fowl which spend the winter.

The embankment was damaged considerably in recent storms and in some sections, it is claimed, salt water flowed over the sand into the bay. Temporary repairs were made by volunteers but another storm, it is feared, would again drive salt water into the bay and maybe destroy the feeding grounds.

Back Bay is one of the outstanding feeding grounds for wild ducks, geese, swan, crane and other birds that come this way each winter.

Efforts are being made to have the General Assembly enact legislation for establishing a fish sanctuary off Willoughby. The area would be opened to hook and line fishermen during the fishing season but commercial fishing would be prohibited.

Chris Schneider Dies in Norfolk Hospital

Christian Schneider, aged 62, husband of Elisabeth Naas Schneider, died Tuesday evening at 6:56 o'clock at a Norfolk hospital after an illness of several weeks.

A resident of Virginia Beach for 18 years, Mr. Schneider operated a little hamburger stand on 17th street all of that time and had a wide acquaintance among the bathers and pleasure-seekers who frequented the resort.

He is survived by his wife and a son, Henry Christian Schneider. He was a native of Hungary and a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church and Virginia Beach Lodge No. 374, A. F. & A. M.

Funeral services were held at the Holmlom-Brown Funeral Home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

J. B. Clower Preaches Final Sermon Sunday

Silver Service Presented by Congregation as Parting Gift

Will Take Up New Duties in Morganton, N. C.

On Sunday, October 17, the Rev. J. B. Clower, Jr., concluded nine years of ministry in the Virginia Beach Presbyterian church. He came to the community from the Seminary and founded a church with an enrollment of sixty members with many of this number not living in Virginia Beach at the time.

Mr. Clower leaves a church of over two hundred members, thirty-five of whom were in the church when he became minister. Each branch of the church's activities is a well organized and active unit, a real tribute to his untiring work and his keen insight and love of his chosen calling.

Gift Presented By Congregation
As a gesture of the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Clower are held by the congregation, at the conclusion of the services on Sunday morning they were presented with a silver service and a generous purse, a gift of the members of the church, with many expressions of good wishes, God speed and success in his new work.

Mr. Clower and family will leave the latter part of the week for Morganton, North Carolina, where he will assume the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in that city.

It is with deep regret that not only the members of the congregation but the Presbyterian church realize that his ministry among them is at an end, but the community at large will miss him. His civic pride made him ever mindful of services to be rendered to the community in which he lived and where there was work to be done his place was by the side of his fellow workers.

It is gratifying to know that Mr. Clower moves into broader fields to conquer and, undoubtedly, the memory of pleasant years at Virginia Beach will spur him on with renewed determination to reach his goal.

Game Called for 3:15 on Oceana Field

On Friday October 22, at 3:15 p. m. the Cavaliers of Oceana will engage their old rival team from Norview in a football game to be played on the Oceana athletic field. The Cavaliers had tied or defeated every team played this season until the match last Friday when Craddock with a much heavier team, defeated Oceana 25 to 6.

Two experienced linemen will be missing from the game on Friday, which will of necessity weaken the team. Brick Rust and Leslie Flannigan will be unable to play, however the maroon and white of Oceana will fight until the white blows on the field play of the game.

Care Will Prolong Life of Your Car

Regular Check-up by "That Fellow on the Corner" Is Necessary

With America's automobiles wearing out at an estimated rate of 150,000 to 300,000 every month, Washington and the nation's motorists may soon face the problem of a serious car transportation shortage. In 1941 we had an estimated 29 1/2 million level. We are rapidly approaching the minimum number necessary for workers and farmers, and reliable information indicates it is the cars of these two groups which are oldest in average age.

What will be the solution? Will the auto industry be directed to again manufacture cars needed on the home front? Will "non-essential" motorists have to give up their cars to war workers and farmers? Or can we keep our present cars in the running for a prolonged period by good care and proper maintenance?

To keep present cars running appears to be the desirable alternative and the one man upon whom we all count to do it is "That Fellow on the Corner" who operates the nation's gasoline service stations. It is up to him to prolong the life of tires, batteries, radiators and vital car parts, so difficult to replace, with expert and regular service. His wartime problems are many and trying. On top of revenue losses from gasoline rationing and scarcity of tires, he is handicapped by a shortage of manpower to take care of all these necessary services. Yet in spite of these service problems and the added work of handling ration coupons, scrap drives and government required inspections, he has kept his service man's smile and spirit of cooperation.

In recognition of the important work he is doing, Colonial Oil Company, Inc. and its distributor in this area, C. W. Kornegay, are running an ad this week captioned "That Fellow on the Corner" in which deserved tribute is paid him, whatever may be his company affiliation. In it the Company points out how the motorist can help him by "making a date" for important services in advance—for midweek days when possible—thus smoothing out peaks which overwhelm him on more favored days of the week.

LIGHT (?) TANKS

All White Schools in County Will Accept Registrations

Book 3 Must Be Presented To Obtain Book 4

Registration for ration book 4 will take place in Princess Anne county on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25, 26 and 27, in the seven white schools of the county, Oceana, Kempville, Greeds, Virginia Beach, Bayside, Princess Anne County and Black Water. The hours for registering will be from 2:30 p. m. to 6:00 p. m. each day.

In order to facilitate registration and relieve any undue congestion it is requested that as far as possible registrants comply with the following schedule: Those whose last name begins with letters from A to G, inclusive, will register Monday, H to R, inclusive, Tuesday and S to Z, Wednesday.

Ration Book Four will not be mailed but will be given out at the time of registration. One adult member of the family may register for all members of the family living together at one address.

For each person to be registered, the person doing the registering must bring along War Ration Book Three. All the facts needed to fill out the application will be the full names, ages and sex of members of the family. Consumers will not have to declare stocks on hand—either commercial or home-canned.

War Ration Book Four will be used beginning November 1 for processed foods, canned goods and sugar. Green stamps A, B, and C (for processed foods and canned goods) will become valid November 1, and will remain valid through December 30, 1943. Blue stamps X, Y, and Z (for processed foods, canned goods and sugar) will remain valid and will remain so through November 30. Green stamps in Book Four will be used in exactly the same way as the blue stamps in Book Two—the letters indicate the validity period, the numbers indicate the point values. On November 1, sugar stamp No. 29 also becomes valid and is good through January 15, 1944.

Other stamps in War Ration Book Four will not be used until a later date. The stamps in Book Four labeled "coffee" were printed before coffee rationing was discontinued.

Why Book 4 Not Mailed

It takes from six weeks to two months to distribute a ration book by mail and only three or four days to do the same job by personal registration. The green point stamps in Book 4 will be used for processed foods. And since the blue point stamps in Book 2 will soon run out, there wasn't time to organize a mailing system for Book 4. The new book has to reach consumers in time to be used when the blue stamps run out. The school teachers have expressed their willingness to undertake the job, so it's back to the school houses to get War Ration Book 4.

While consumers are using Book 4, they will also have a chance to use some of the new glass or plastic tokens which the OPA is planning to issue early next year. These tokens will make it possible for consumers to get back ration "change."

HOW THE SERVICE FLAG CAME INTO BEING

R. L. Quiesner, a captain in the Fifth Regiment, Ohio Infantry, fighting in Cleveland in 1917, originated the first blue-streaked (gold-streaked) red-bordered flag of cloth that tells its proud story in millions of American windows today.

Captain Quiesner designed the emblem for use by families having members in the armed forces. His idea caught the popular fancy at once, finding official sanction as the city of Cleveland and many other municipalities declared in favor of its use, while the state of Ohio shortly followed suit. The originator of our service flag design never made a cent.

"THE VOICE of a majority, carrying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

WRITE TO THE BOYS Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, on his return from a tour around the world, gave out the statement that the boys at the front live in an almost total blackout, so far as the news from home is concerned. They do not receive newspapers and they do wait news.

We are reprinting herewith a "soldier's plea for letters," written by Corporal Edwin R. Jones and published in his home newspaper, The Portland Oregonian. It is worthy of being passed on.

It is as follows: "A tranquil African night. Stars are twinkling and a quarter moon beats a golden path upon the Mediterranean. 'Tis no wonder then, in this solemnity, that we should think of our homes, our friends and our families.

"There's no doubt that many soldiers on these far-flung outposts of the world are homesick. Even today many enlisted men have few letters. If you've never been away from home little can you surmise the elation some friendly letter may bring to some forgotten soldier.

"Mail calls to soldiers on foreign soil to their entertainment, luxury and enjoyment rolled into one. Maybe you've never witnessed a soldier day after day looking forward to mail call yet not receiving a letter. A bystander can offer little in way of consolation, but he may be quite aware of the mental process in the soldier's mind at some time when he has been through identically the same experience.

"In our first few months in basic training centers throughout the United States we were deluged with mail. Today it is quite the opposite. Regular writers have diminished until the mail from home is in the main, from the immediate family or, perhaps, the old friend.

"We are weary; we are tired and there's not one of us who isn't anxious to finish Hitler and his. In the meantime there is no greater morale builder than a letter.

"What about those community friends? How many community club members write to former personnel? Once we quite frequently attended church—what's changed? What's become of the former drugstore gang?

"Simple events and happenings are extremely interesting. Recently we ran across a news which stated more letters were being mailed home by soldiers than were received. Of course, this naturally left the question—are we soldiers to cheer the home front or is the home front to cheer us?

"Put yourselves in a soldier's shoes, and think. Having done this, grab a pen and write. This little touch of human kindness will play its part in hastening homecoming."

Perhaps the best morale builder the Nation could inaugurate would be a National drive to "Tell Him the News."

RELIGION AND THE PEACE "In unity there is strength." The cooperation between Catholics, Protestants and Jews in this country in the recent drive to tell Him the News, certainly moves us a long way toward Christian unity.

is an outgrowth of the principle that peace must be based on a moral foundation. The moral law must govern world order—that "the rights of individuals must be secured" and that "the social order within each state must be secured." The moral law is understood everywhere and by all, it makes no difference the creed, the color or the nationality. It is the only permanent foundation of international law.

States as well as individuals must repudiate racial, religious or other discrimination in violation of those rights. In reality this is the extension to the whole world of our own Declaration of Independence which, it will be remembered, affirms that all men have rights and that these must be recognized and protected because they are derived from God, not from the State or a social contract.

The three great religious faiths in America are to be congratulated for having placed this declaration before the American people in these critical times.

"SWAP-SHOP" AND "DUTCH-BID" NOVEL SALES IDEAS

War emergencies bring out novel ideas and ingenuity—with restrictions imposed on many items of stock—new selling techniques are put into use by furniture dealers throughout the country. Two of the most unique are the "swap shop" and the "Dutch bid."

The "swap shop" is the idea of an ingenious Indiana merchant. He accepts an almost limitless array of household articles: washing machines, electrical appliances, baby furniture, lamps, refrigerators, cooking stoves, vacuum cleaners, luggage, etc. Payment is made in war stamps and bonds, or in "budget checks." The store takes a 10 per cent fee for serving as go-between for the swapper, and incidentally attracts hundreds of new customers, many of whom will no doubt shop.

Equally simple—and effective—is the "Dutch bid" stunt of a Boston store in its heirloom shops which features old American furniture and decorative objects. This type of merchandise is difficult to price. While every item is marked, this asking price is automatically reduced 10 per cent each week that the article remains unsold. Customers are invited to bid on any piece at the price it will be in one, two or three weeks. Bids are made by filling out a card which constitutes the customer's signed agreement to accept the item desired if the bid which he has made is successful.

In addition to such new selling techniques, furniture men are pioneering new lines, featuring modern styles, and utilizing a variety of novel materials. Many of their stock, including silverware, hardware, paints and wall papers, curtains, draperies—even wearing apparel—in their search for relatively unrestricted goods.

About 90 per cent of America's normal tin supply was cut off when Japan took over Malaya, Dutch East Indies, Singapore, and other South Pacific areas.

THE UNDER SECRETARY OF THE NAVY WASHINGTON 17 September 1945 Mr. J. J. Pelley, President Association of American Railroads Washington, D. C. Dear Mr. Pelley: The War and Navy Departments would appreciate it if you would express to the men and women who work on America's railroads the gratitude of the Army and Navy for the splendid job they are doing. Since the outbreak of war the railroads have hauled 76 million carloads of freight, most of it destined for battle fronts. Millions of fighting men have been transported to training camps and embarkation ports. The Army and Navy realizes that, to perform this big job, crews on trains, in shops, in yards, and along rights of way have had to work long and hard. To the men and women who have made this record movement of men and material possible, the Army and Navy are deeply grateful. Keep up the good work -- for railroad work is war work, railroad service is vital to victory. Sincerely yours, Robert P. Patterson Under Secretary of War. James Forrestal Under Secretary of the Navy On behalf of the men and women who work on the American railroads, I wish to express tribute conveyed in your letter of September 17 concerning the splendid job which they are doing. It will, I assure you, be a pleasure to have your message conveyed to them. This tribute, coming as it does from the Army and Navy, will be gratefully appreciated. By this splendid group of men and women who are doing their utmost to back up the men on our far flung fighting fronts on land, sea and in the air. It will serve as an added stimulus to their contribution to America's war effort and lend aid and encouragement to the maintenance and even betterment of their place in the ranks of those on the road to victory. Sincerely yours, J. H. P. The two letters reproduced above speak for themselves. The Norfolk and Western Railway is proud of its outstanding record, the loyalty and patriotism of the Norfolk and Western family. Victory on the battle front and Victory on the home front need your complete support at your local War and Community Fund Campaign. This year, Give Double—The World's in Trouble. ONE CORPORAL GETS FIVE JAPS

An Army corporal, who failed to get the order to withdraw, recently killed five of an attacking eight-man Japanese patrol, then found to his astonishment that he had been left alone for in advance of his Marine companions. Corporal Henderson, whose home is in Calhounville, Utah, reported: "I figured they were still with me when the Japs came in sight. I opened up with my tommy." After he had killed five of the Japs, the other three ran. It was then Corporal Henderson discovered he was alone. He spent the night in the jungle and walked in for chow the next morning.

VIRGINIA NEGRO BETS BRITISHER "A TON"
Richmond. (By VPA)—One of the best stories of the war to date has filtered back to the Old Dominion from the ranks of the A.E.F. in England. It seems that a Virginia Negro member of the A.E.F. was playing poker with two British soldiers and found he had one of those "once in a lifetime hands" with four aces.

One of the British soldiers said, "I'll raise a pound."

The Virginia colored boy replied, "I don't know how you count your money, white boy, but I raises you a ton!"

PARACHUTE LAMP'S BEEP DISTINGUISHES SUITORS
It's a long way from our industrial plants to the battlefronts, but some of the ingenious little devices now serving our forces in good stead, come right from home. Many of the manufacturers are the very ones which served the same boys previously — when they weren't in khaki.

For example, one of the newest wrinkles in helping hard-fighting paratroopers like those who landed in Sicily to find supplies quickly, are lamps on parachutes, now being made by a large photographic equipment firm.

These lamps are made of lightweight, weather-resistant plastic which is so tough that bumpy landings will not break it. When the small supply parachute, which is part of the packaged container, is released from the airplane, the opening chute automatically lights the lamp.

That Fellow on the Corner

Hey, you there—
come away from that job

We want to say
some nice things about you.

Maybe your ears will burn,
but you've got it coming.

Remember the old days when they kidded the service station man about all those extra services he gave?

You don't hear any of those wisecracks today, do you?

People now realize that those same services may make months of difference in the life of their cars and tires.

They appreciate as never before that the service station man really sets the pace for modern customer service in America.

Probably no businessman in America has had so many things happen to him since the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Gasoline rationing has cut deep into his main source of revenue.

His helpers have gone to war, and new helpers are hard to get.

His tire business has faded, but his tire-service job has multiplied.

People who never worried much about checking tires, batteries or radiator water are now asking for these services almost every time they drive in—and he's doing his best.

He has helped organize car-sharing clubs to get workers to the job.

War-Time TELEPHONE TIPS

Now that telephone materials have gone to war, we must get along with the facilities we have until a happier day. You can help keep service good for everyone, including yourself, by following these simple rules:—

1. Be sure you have the right number before placing a call. Consult your directory.
2. Answer all calls as promptly as possible.
3. If you're on a party line, apply the Golden Rule to your use of the line.
4. Don't ask "Information" for numbers that are listed in the directory.
5. Hang up carefully after each call. Don't let a book, or other object, hold the receiver off the hook.
6. Take good care of the telephone instrument and cord in your home and office. They're made of scarce and critical materials.

EXTRA RATION POINTS FOR SOME

Persons who reside in remote areas and are unable to obtain their minimum nutritional requirements of fresh milk will be eligible to receive extra ration points to purchase additional amounts of rationed meats, fats and dairy products, according to OPA.

TO PROVIDE MORE SOAP

An increase of about 9 per cent in the nation's soap supply, without using additional fats and oil, is expected under adjusted soap formulas recently prescribed by the War Food Administration. The formulas call for a larger use of domestic non-fat materials, principally rosin, as a substitute for fats.

CAN STILL SEND SOME GIFTS

Christmas packages for soldiers overseas which have been returned to the sender because of an improper address still may be mailed, according to the War Department. The original wrapper, bearing the indorsement, "Return to sender, Insufficient Address," must be submitted with the correctly addressed package to prove that it originally was mailed before October 15 deadline. Christmas packages also may be mailed to soldiers going overseas between now and Christmas. When the sender presents his package to the post office for mailing he must bring the change of address form containing the APO address to which the package is being sent.

GET POINTS TO SEND FOOD OVERSEAS

Persons who wish to send a package of rationed food overseas may get the necessary points by applying to OPA. Those who wish to have the dealer from whom the food is bought arrange for shipment, may make the purchase without giving up ration stamps, since OPA will replace the point value of the foods the dealer exports. When extra ration points are issued, a copy of the export declaration and a certificate of mailing must be turned over to the OPA office which granted the points.

CAN GET NEEDED SHOES

Children who wear out or outgrow their shoes at a particularly fast rate and adults with extra shoe requirements need not suffer hardship because of the longer shoe ration point allotment recently by OPA. If a child or adult needs shoes and the family quota of regular ration stamps has been spent, he may get a special application form for a special shoe stamp from his local rationing board.

U. S. Navy Expansion Greatest in History

Over 15,000 New Ships Increased Ordnance Production

Most Powerful Naval Air Force in World

Having celebrated Navy Day on October 27, it seems quite fitting to give herewith figures released by the office of war information on the strength of our Navy.

The phenomenal expansion of United States Navy shipbuilding is unequalled in history. No naval construction program of comparable size and speed has ever been accomplished by any other nation. This ability to build is one of the foundation stones of American military strategy and a basic advantage which the American Navy holds over fleets of all other nations. It underlies amphibious attacks. It protects supply routes. Most important, it makes feasible a strategy of attack.

Over 15,000 New Ships
In the 36 months between July 1, 1940, and July 1, 1943, the Navy completed 15,376 new ships of all types. This fleet—standing apart from the U. S. Navy in existence on July 1, 1940—would be one of the largest naval forces in the world. It comprises:

333 combatant vessels aggregating 1,117,654 displacement tons and costing more than three billion dollars.

1,274 mine craft and patrol craft of 199,755 tons costing $20 million dollars.

151 auxiliaries and 654 yard and district craft.

12,964 landing craft aggregating 610,781 tons and costing more than one billion dollars.

Ordnance Production Gains
Giant strides in naval ordnance production have been necessary also. New Navy fighter planes fire in one minute five times the weight of projectiles that their 1940 predecessors fired.

A modern battleship's anti-aircraft firepower is 100 times what it was three years ago. To meet these demands more than 2,500 million dollars of naval guns and mounts, ammunition, torpedoes, mines, depth charges, bombs and fire control devices have been produced since July, 1940. Rate production has increased 24-fold.

World's Largest Surface Fleet
At the end of three years the United States has the mightiest surface fleet in world history.

Against the 1,978 vessels of three years ago the Navy now has 16,972. Their combined displacement is almost 5 million tons against 1,978,000 tons for the fleet of mid-1940.

Despite losses, the new fleet has 613 warships compared with 383 three years ago. Their tonnage—3,317,962 tons—exceeds that of the 1940 fighting ships by 70 per cent.

The United States also has the most powerful Naval air force in the world. Where there were 1,744 naval planes three years ago, on July 31, 1943, there were 18,269—a 10-fold net increase.

Mary Sinton Leitch Publishes New Book

Former Poetry Editor of News Wins New Laurels

Mary Sinton Leitch, at one time Poetry Editor of the Virginia Beach News, has published another book of verse, "From Invisible Mountains." This recent collection of war sonnets and other poems is entirely new and has brought forth much favorable comment from such prominent authorities as William Lyon Phelps, Max Eastman, Archibald Rutledge, as well as newspapers throughout the country. The Chicago Post, in commenting, says: "Mrs. Leitch must not be forgotten when one takes inventory of the best contemporary American poets."

Daughter of the late Charleston L. Lewis, distinguished classical scholar and a former editor of the New York Evening Post, Mrs. Leitch was born in New York but her life has been lived over the

Notice to Knitters

Mrs. F. S. Royster, Jr., chairman of Red Cross Knitting, announces the arrival of wool for the winter quota. Knitters are needed to make the necessary garments and those wishing to secure the wool are asked to call for it at Red Cross headquarters.

A Junior Home Front Soldier

This youngster makes sure that the housewives in his neighborhood get their waste fats in the local salvage collection. Collecting waste fats is an important job these days because they contain 10 percent glycerine which is necessary to the manufacture of nitroglycerine, dynamite, and cordite. Two pounds of waste fats produce enough glycerine to fire five 37-mm. antitank shells.

Retraining School for State Officers

Due to the fact that the State Police Department acts as a clearing house for all traffic accidents it is necessary that each member be well versed in every phase of highway protection and be prepared for every emergency. Approximately 100 troopers from every corner of the state have been and will attend intensive "State Police Retraining Schools held in different sections of the state, with approximately 37 troopers in attendance each week. The courses include every kind of traffic, use of fire arms, the act of "Judo," care of all motorized equipment, physical education and special lectures with instruction on court room conduct.

At the conclusion of the courses the members of the State force will be more than ever proficient and make up in quality what their war-depleted forces lack in quantity.

Harmful Antifreeze Solutions Endanger Autos and Trucks

More than a half-million gallons of harmful and destructive antifreeze is included in the supply of antifreeze preparations for sale to the public. The Office of Defense Transportation estimates Certain Types Highly Destructive Warning that certain types of antifreeze solutions have been found highly destructive to radiators, ignition systems, and rubber connections in automobiles and trucks. Where such solutions already have been put in, ODT advises that they be drained out immediately and re-

Plans to Promote Scrap Metal Drive in Near Future

Congressional Medal Awarded Beach Resident

Custom Originated During Civil War

To Virginia Beach comes the distinct honor of having one of its residents the recipient of The Congressional Medal of Honor. One who lost his life in line of duty.

Lieutenant Milton E. Ricketts was officer-in-charge of the engineering repair party of the U. S. S. Yorktown during the Coral Sea battle May 4-8, 1942. On May 8 a bomb exploded beneath his battle station. Although his men were all killed and he himself mortally wounded, he opened the valve on a nearby fireplug, partially let out the fire hose and directed a heavy stream of water into the raging flames before dropping dead beside the fire hose. His action prevented the fire's rapid spread.

Origin of Medal

In April, 1862, four Union sergeants and two privates captured a Confederate railroad train at Big Shanty, Ga. To them President Lincoln presented the first medals authorized by Congress to be given to enlisted men intelligible for other decorations for valor in action. They were the first recipients of what is today the highest military honor given to American soldiers or sailors—the Congressional Medal of Honor or awarded for a heroic deed "above and beyond the call of duty."

Later in the Civil War the medal was used as bait to prevent desertion. In 1863, when the 55th Regiment of Maine Volunteers, attending Washington was faced with mass desertion, every loyal soldier who stayed on the job was promised a Medal of Honor. Of the 604 men in the regiment only 300 volunteered to stay, but eventually all 604 were given the medal anyway.

In 1917, when the Medal of Honor had assumed its present importance, these awards were withdrawn as illegal. Also ruled illegal were awards to "Buffalo Bill" Cody and Dr. Mary Walker, a woman surgeon with the Union Army who got Congress to pass a law allowing her to wear pants in Washington.

For the first World War 121 Congressional Medals of Honor were awarded. Up until last week no had been awarded for actions in World War II. Of these 20 were awarded posthumously, their winners having been killed in the execution of the deed that brought them glory.

The requirements for the medal are roughly the same for both Army and Navy, except that the Army's medal is given only in combat situations; the Navy's either in actual combat with the enemy or "in line of his profession" (noncombat work).

In both cases, however, the soldier's or sailor's field commander makes a recommendation to the respective Army or Navy Board of Decorations sitting in Washington, which passes the merits of the case. The President makes the award, personally if possible, in the name of Congress. Actually Congress has nothing to do with the award except that it may initiate legislation for a Medal of Honor, as it did with Lindbergh in 1927.

W. T. COOKE MEETING NOVEMBER 1

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent Teacher Association of the W. T. Cooke school will be held Monday, November 1, at 3:00 p. m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. E. H. Whitehurst, president, will preside.

Almost $55,000 Raised in Bond Sale of Tickets Distributed for Turkey Raffle

Russell Hatchett Guest Speaker

The regular monthly meeting of the Lions club was held at the Pinewood hotel on Monday, October 25. Plans were made for the promotion of the scrap metal drive to be put on in the near future. Members of the local club will forewarn the residents of the Beach when to expect a truck to pick up any scrap which they wish to donate.

Tickets were distributed to be sold for the annual turkey raffle which will be held on November 22nd. Each year 15 turkeys are raffled for the benefit of the work among the blind.

Announcement was made by the chairman of the Bond drive that almost $55,000 in bonds had been sold by the club members. Which team is leading in the drive is still a dark secret. The contest will close October 31 and the winners will be announced at the November meeting.

At the invitation of W. W. Johnson, president, Russell Hatchett made a talk on "Lionism."

Junior Red Cross Enrollment Nov. 1-15

All Schools in County Participating

Mrs. H. G. Walker, chairman of the Junior Red Cross, announces that all the schools in the county were participating in the Junior Red Cross enrollment to begin November 1 to November 15.

Our children have had a large part in the Red Cross program for the county. Last year they gave over 500 gifts to soldiers in the hospitals at Christmas time, and contributed $60.00 to National Children's Fund, which helps to provide food and clothing and other necessities for children of war torn nations. At holidays, seasons, gifts of tray favors and jar reminders of the season were made for the hospitals and the Juniors also produced ditty bags and cast boots which are always needed.

This year the program is expanding and the Juniors will have a course in Home Nursing to be taught in each of the high schools in the county. One class has already begun in the Kempsville high school. This is being taught by Mrs. R. K. Staufferman, who is volunteering her time to this work. This class will finish by the middle of November. Beginning in November Mrs. I. L. Hancock has volunteered to teach the course in Creeds high school. The class at Oceana high school will start later.

Last year every school in the county and every pupil in every school was an active member of the American Junior Red Cross. The schools enroll by rooms and the pupils participate in the program in class groups.

The Junior Red Cross county committee is composed of the following members:

Mrs. H. G. Walker, Chairman; Mrs. J. B. Ehrhede, Mrs. Walter Gresham, Mrs. Luther Gilbert, Mrs. George Bratten, Mrs. Louise Luxford, Margarette Preston, representing the negro schools. Each school has a teacher sponsor.

Final Figures on 3rd War Loan

The final figures for the Third War Loan in Princess Anne county show a total of over $520,000, according to the last report from Clayborne Bryant, chairman.

It is more than double the county quota of $250,000.00. The quota for the United States was five billion dollars and this amount was oversubscribed by $37 million dollars, making the final figures for the drive for the U. S. stand at $10,943,000,000 worth of bonds sold.

"THE VOICE of a majority, shaping the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-balanced people."

THE HUMAN HAZARD

Streets and highways are supposed to be for the use of automobile travel. However, in this area where so many men in our armed forces are stationed, there seems to be a dual use of these lanes of travel. Driving in an area restricted as to light is, at best, a most tedious and nerve-racking procedure, but when these roads and streets are filled with human beings "bumbling" a ride in any direction a vehicle seems to be moving. It presents a terrific hazard to human safety, not only from the point of the sailor or soldier standing—not at the edge of the street, but often near the middle—but also to the driver of the automobile. The dark uniforms, lack of street lights and the dimmed headlights make it a physical impossibility for the driver of a car to see a person in his pathway until practically upon the offender. Some night the driver is going to see too late.

This is not all hearsay, this opinion comes from a civilian traveler who uses these roads between Norfolk and Virginia Beach daily.

The military police and shore patrol are supposed to see to the conduct of the men in our midst. Unfortunately, this habit of attempting to block the passage of cars is not to be picked up a ride in definite misconduct. If the military authorities do not venture out after dark and are un-mindful of the existing conditions, the Navy would like to suggest a tour of Virginia Beach, between Camp Pendleton and Fort Story, by those in whose power lies the authority to correct a definite human hazard.

NAVY DAY

On October 27, the United States Navy celebrated its 75th birthday. A day on which the nation paused to pay tribute to the greatest fleet afloat in the world today. To remember the sacrifices of the past and to demonstrate the confidence we place in the promise of the future.

No parade or inspection of Naval Bases and ship building plants—as in years gone by—was necessary to make us mindful of the achievements and strength of our mighty forces of the sea. History in the making tells us these things.

A strong sense of pride is felt by all, a pride in every man who helps to build our ships and in every officer and man of our navy who so gallantly upholds the traditions of the service. Their matchless courage in the face of danger and their devotion to duty puts all Americans in their debt—a debt we can only partially repay by greater sacrifice here at home.

CHRISTIAN SCHNEIDER

The death of Christian Schneider on Tuesday, October 19th, has taken from Virginia Beach one of its most beloved citizens, and his passing will long be mourned by the many who were privileged to call him friend.

an employee in the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth. After the war he went back to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, but made his plans then to return one day to Virginia. In 1908 Mr. Schneider came to Virginia Beach, and opened his business on the South side of 17th Street, later moving across the street to the site which he occupied up until the time of his death.

He was passionately devoted to his adopted country. He was actively interested in civic affairs, and the welfare of the Beach was close to his heart, as were the activities of his church and his lodge, No. 274, A. F. & A. M.

Mr. Schneider was a member of many years standing of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Norfolk, where he was a regular attendant. It was there that he was married, and later where his little son, Henry Christian, was baptized. His long membership was characterized by the same devotion that gave to other things, and by his generous and thoughtful charity.

Kind and affable, generous to a fault, Mr. Schneider served his community and his friends un-sparingly, often anonymously. He has helped the needy and the unfortunate, not only with the material things, but with the kind word and cheering thought. Because his heart was big, the troubles and hardships of others—big and small, prominent and unknown—became his troubles; their successes, his successes.

Virginia Beach will not soon forget, but will long point with pride to Christian Schneider, friend, citizen and American.

Health Notes

COMMON COLDS

From the beginning of time colds have been regarded as the work of an especially evil demon. No doubt every one can remember Grandma's reassured advice "better wear rubbers and watch out for drafts," which may or may not have been heeded. How much of this advice is founded upon actual preventive measures can best be determined by some of the known facts about the common cold.

The Cause Medical science has proved that a cold is infectious, also it is one of the most contagious diseases known. Ancient superstitions do not pass out quickly. There are many today who still believe colds are contracted by exposure to cold air. It is generally quite harmless to get one's clothes or feet wet. This may bring on trouble if it causes a chill for a sufficiently long period to draw upon the reserves of strength, especially if one is already at a low ebb. To be wet in this or that part of the body produces no ill effects.

Any condition which tends to lower resistance, such as over-exhaustion, or irregular or faulty eating habits, will predispose a person to an infection. If the cold germ is present, persons with little resistance easily become victims.

People in outdoor occupations, such as lumbermen, trappers, and hunters all agree that while they remain in the frozen North they never have even the mildest cold. But on their return to civilization, they invariably catch colds within a few days. The symptoms of the common cold are too well known to need reiteration here.

Prevention Colds far surpass in frequency any other disease. Like all infections, colds confer an immunity against other attacks. But, unfortunately for many persons, the immunity may last only a few weeks or months.

Colds cause immediate disability and are therefore responsible for much absence. They are dangerous because of the possibility of opening the way for pneumonia or other serious diseases. When properly treated, colds are among the least harmful of diseases.

The prevention of colds consists in avoiding the infection and in guarding against the predisposing causes.

Colds may be traced from one victim to another, may run through schools, factories, or any other assembled groups. Therefore, double infection should be avoided, especially from persons coughing and sneezing.

NATIONAL NEWS OF NOTE

MODERATED POLITICAL CANDY

Along with numerous other measures which fall into the sweeping classification of social progress legislation, is the Wagner-Murray Senate Bill 1161. The fact that it makes provision for free general medical, special medical, laboratory and hospitalization benefits for 110,000,000 people in the United States, makes it popular political candy.

The measure is just another step in the totalitarian government theory of cradle-to-the-grave domination of the individual. It would give the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service the power to hire doctors and establish rates of pay; to establish fee schedules for services; to establish qualifications for specialists; to determine the number of individuals for whom any physician may provide service; and to determine arbitrarily what hospitals or clinics may provide service for patients.

The bill provides that employers pay a tax on wages paid to individuals up to $3,000 a year, of 6 per cent; that employers pay a tax deducted from wages on earned income up to $3,000 a year, of 6 per cent (total of 12 per cent on payrolls); that self-employed individuals pay a tax on value of services up to $3,000 a year, of 7 per cent; that Federal, state and municipal employees under certain conditions, pay 3 1/2 per cent.

The Surgeon General of the Public Health Service would have the expenditure of some $3,000,000,000 annually, which sum would, in reality, be nothing more nor less than $3,000,000,000 of new taxes for a system of socialized medicine to displace the present American medical system which has developed the most effective and the most widely distributed medical care ever provided for any comparable number of people anywhere at any time.

State medicine for the masses will mean medical care by physicians who are politically amenable, rather than by those of superior abilities, for the doctor will mean catering toward committees, rather than the needs of human beings who are his patients.

That will be the effect of an overdose of moderated political candy. And the people will pay a stiff price for it in the form of new taxes on wages, even though they think they are going to get something for nothing.

PENNY PAYMENTS VS. DOLLAR PAYMENTS

Congress finally passed a pay-as-you-go bill for increased taxes, against Administration opposition. Now the Administration asks another tax increase of 16 billion dollars, but no one likes to say where to get it.

There is no argument but what more taxes are necessary for two purposes—to finance the war and to control excess spending which creates greater shortages of already limited supplies. Both the Administration and Congress have so far opposed a sales tax which would tap the greatest source of surplus revenue, be a powerful counterforce of inflation, and prevent the imposition of still greater direct income and corporation taxes which would retard industrial activity and employment.

A sales tax would be easier for the average individual to pay in penny amounts than higher income taxes in dollar amounts.

BOSS OF THE BUREAUCRATS

The American people are turning against government by bureaus, and decrees. Evidence of this is the action of critics of the Federal Power Commission who charge that that body has invaded states' rights and regulatory procedures. They won a lively battle on the convention floor of the war conference of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners. The Association's member commissioners voted 26 to 16 to submit to Congress a demand that the Federal Power Act be remedied to stop what many of the state commissioners termed an encroachment on state powers by the Federal Power Commission.

The Federal Communications Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Federal Power Commission voted against the resolution committing the Association to appeal to Congress. The Interstate Commerce Commission waived its vote. This action is in line with a growing determination throughout the country to end government by bureaus and bureaucrats, who are neither elected by nor responsible to the people they regulate. This is a healthy sign and a compliment to our duly elected Congress which, after all, is the boss of the bureaucrats.

BWARE OF THE REALISTS

Many self-termed "realists" declare that as far as the millions of men and women who work in large corporate enterprises are concerned, it makes little difference whether government or private management runs industry and signs the pay checks. For them, it is claimed, opportunity and free enterprise are merely empty words. Government domination is encouraged on the grounds that it is the wisest solution to the complex problems of an industrial society. Such "realists," and they are found in industry as well as in the ranks of labor and government, are sowing the seeds of destruction of our republic.

The problem of maintaining individual security and opportunity cannot be solved by the spineless expediency of government ownership. Government ownership of basic industries, of mines, other natural resources, power and transportation, would open the way to termination of the liberty of every citizen. No matter how large an industry may be, as long as it is privately owned and operated, it represents economic freedom to those who work in it. That it, they are economically free of any form of political coercion. Their jobs do not depend upon how they vote.

Destruction of private industry means destruction of representative government. This is a fundamental truth which every soldier and every war worker must keep clearly in mind during these troublesome times.

MACARTHUR

General Douglas MacArthur's protest against specific strategy involving "island hopping" against Japan has received the endorsement of President Roosevelt. Don't worry about MacArthur—he is too valuable a leader to lose.

SENATORS TELL TALES

Don't let anybody convince you that five Senators who flew more than 40 thousand miles around the world are trying to pull any political, or phoney stuff on the American public. The Legislative body has sat back and taken orders from the Administration and backed the war to the limit. In the second place the Legislative branch of the Government has just as much business to express its opinion about the management and conduct of the war as the President or anyone else. That's what they are elected for.

The nub of the whole matter is that the Senators are substantially agreed that inasmuch as the United States has been furnishing most of the money, and playing a lonesome hand in the war it is time Great Britain and Russia be treated as equals, and not as "bosses." The accounts given by the Senators in secret and public meetings have treated our Administration very fairly and without very much severe criticism. In fact the Senators have made it plain that they disagree with the Administration in some important particulars. Therefore they are demanding recognition in all matters relating to the conduct of the war. They especially emphasize the fact that they will insist on a place at the peace table, and at every other spot which has anything to do with post-war planning.

The Senate appears to be insisting on its rights to remain an "independent branch" of the American Government.

U. S. CASUALTIES TO DATE 105,295

BOOKS TO OWN

SO LITTLE TIME By John P. Marquand. 325 pp. Dutton: Little, Brown and Co. $2.75.

John P. Marquand has written an exceptionally fine satiric novel dealing with the American scene as he knows it. The book has little conventional plot, but rather portrays the period in our national life just prior to our entry in the present war through the subjective reactions of the very sensitive principal character, Jeffrey Wilson. By means of flash-backs the narrative encompasses Jeffrey's boyhood days in a small Massachusetts town, and thus evokes a broader picture of the era which produced Jeffrey Wilson and his many contemporaries who, before Pearl Harbor, refused to face the possibility of war.

Jeffrey Wilson is presented as a successful man who is not himself ridiculous and futile as are many of the characters, but who is burdened with a deep sense of frustration. Though successful, this man is the product of the simple environment of a small town and bears the marks of his early struggle for education and material achievement. The accident of his marriage to a woman of social position and wealth who entirely lacks the humor and sensitivity of her husband, and is consequently incapable of sharing in his personal life, has further contributed to his feeling of frustration.

The story is laid chiefly in New York City and nearby Connecticut, with glimpses of Hollywood and Washington. The characterization amounts at times almost to caricature. There is mediocre Walter Newcombe, an unintelligent yet successful foreign correspondent; there is Jeffrey's brother, Al, a breezy character who always gets a laugh and never leaves without borrowing $500; and there are numerous others.

Jeffrey's preoccupation with the coming war provides the central theme and lends significance to the book. He is obsessed with concern for his nineteen year old son, Jim, and desires the fullness of experience for this boy with "so little time," threatened by the disaster of war. Jim is a student at Harvard and in love. Jeffrey's wish that his son live richly while he may is not shared by his wife and the ensuing conflict between these two greatly clarifies Jeffrey's thinking—about himself and the world.

The book is good reading. It has much subtlety and sounds in delightful humor and irony. It is to be read and laughed over; yet pondered over, too, with a bit of an ache in one's heart for the shallowness and futility of much that has made up this America of ours, for the willful blindness of many Americans faced with approaching disaster and change; for human vanity and shortcomings.

This book may be secured from your local library, or from the University of Virginia Extension Division in Charlottesville.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Just dropped by to tell you, Frank, I had a fine letter from your son, Joe, this morning. Mighty nice of him to take the time to write me... I know how busy they keep the boys. That's a fine camp he's been transferred to in New England."

"Yes, Catherine and I had a letter this morning, too. Said he was writing you... he's very fond of you, Judge. Catherine is certainly proud of Joe and proud of the great Army he's a part of."

"She has good reason to be, Frank."

Joe is one fine fellow and the Army he's in is the best disciplined, best behaved in our history. Just last night I was reading an article that quoted a report signed by five chaplains in the very camp where Joe is now training. I remember their exact words which were "there is no liquor problem at this Post." And I understand that a true in camp after camp all over the country. And if Catherine would like to see that report, I'll drop it off at the house tomorrow."

Theatre Previews

Fred Astaire, Joan Leslie, Robert Benchley and Robert Ryan open a two-day engagement at the Bayne Theatre on Friday, October 29, and Saturday the 30th, in "THE SKY'S THE LIMIT." A romance hit filled with song and dance. The kind of dancing that only Fred Astaire can do, and with a superb new partner in Joan Leslie.

The two favorites, here brought together for the first time, turn in grand performances in their engagingly romantic roles. Fred is an ex-flying Tiger pilot on a brief leave before going into the Navy's air service, and enjoying himself in civilian attire during his few days in New York City. Joan is a photographer for a picture magazine, anxious to do something for the war effort and impatient of idle young men with no apparent purpose in life.

Naturally when the two meet there are fireworks, for Joan doesn't approve of Fred's seeming lack of interest in the war. But his unconventional methods intrigue her interest and a romance swiftly springs up, complicated by the fact that Joan's wealthy employer wants to marry her also.

The outcome of it all is wrapped up in suspense and fun in delightful fashion, while Fred not only does some of the finest dancing he has ever exhibited before the cameras, but proves to have an ideal partner in the graceful and lovely Joan.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "PHANTOM OF THE OPERA," starring Nelson Eddy, Claud Rains, Susanna Foster and Edgar Barrier will be the feature. Revived from the old picture yet featuring the music rather than the gruesome this classic production in technicolor is one of the year's outstanding movie projects. It is a picture which should appeal to true music lovers with a background of portions of three operas with a piano concerto and numerous arias sung by Nelson Eddy and Susan Foster and because of its mixed chorus of one hundred voices plus a 100-piece symphony orchestra.

"CLAUDIA" will be the next offering of the Bayne Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. Dorothy McGuire, Ina Claire, Reginald Gardner and Robert Young will be co-starring. The picture is hailed as "something new and unusual." Claudia, played by Dorothy McGuire, who portrayed the heroine on the stage in the play of the same title, is the young wife who lives with her husband in a rambling Connecticut farm house. Her sense of budget is sublime and the general ease with which she meets domestic difficulties by simply ignoring them has become as elastic as a June bride. Claudia is the American girl—the girl who saunters about her home in low-heeled shoes, slushy dresses and collegiate cardigans.

"GOOD LUCK MR. YATES" will come to the Roland Theatre Friday and Saturday, October 29 and 30. Claire Trevor, Jess Barker, Dorothy McGuire, Reginald Gardner, Ina Claire, Robert Young, and Robert Paige.

BEACH RESIDENTS ASKED TO ENLIST ROOMS IN WAR EFFORT

A strong appeal is being made by the USO Club at Virginia Beach to enlist in the war service of the country every room available for sleeping accommodations. Recent weeks have found servicemen and their families stranded at the beach without overnight accommodations. These facts were made known today by Edward J. Kelly, director, as he opened a campaign to register any sleeping accommodations available at the beach.

The form given below is being sent to householders in the Virginia Beach area. It is the hope of Mr. Kelly that those who have not been reached by the mail campaign will clip this form from the paper and turn it in to the club.

In opening the campaign Mr. Kelly stressed the patriotic service householders could render the nations defenders by giving them overnight or weekly accommodations.

W. A. C. to Form All Virginia Unit

Mayors and Chairmen of County Board of Supervisors to Head All State's Plans

Not to be outdone by the Marines, who have formed a Virginia unit, the Army now has plans afoot for the formation of an all Virginia unit of WAC. Governor Colgate W. Darden, Jr., selected the mayors and chairmen of the county Board of Supervisors throughout Virginia to head up the all-state plan for WAC Recruitment in an official proclamation released in Richmond.

The all-states plan for the Women's Army Corps is an outgrowth of a recent letter to state governors from General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff. Commanding generals of the nine service commands throughout the country have called on the Governors personally to elicit their support in the plan. Major General Milton A. Reckord, commanding general of the Third Service Command of which Virginia is a part, met with Governor Darden last week.

Mayor Richard C. Carrington of Lynchburg has been appointed the state civilian Coordinator for the present drive which will end on the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor, December 7th. Mayor Carrington will direct the civilian activities in the drive. Lieutenant Catherine Quinn will serve as liaison officer and will establish offices in Lynchburg this week.

The purpose of the all-state plan is to enlist a company of women in the state for the WAC by the closing date. Each state has been asked to contribute a proportionate share of its population for the WAC. Officials pointed out that the recruits would be trained together under the state flag and will wear special insignia. The enlistees will leave for the training center together and live as a unit throughout basic training. The first group is scheduled to leave approximately on November 1st.

A new and important feature of the present WAC recruiting program was brought out in the announcement. WAC enlistees may now choose the branch or service with which they will serve after basic training. The Army Air Forces have issued an appeal for a number of Wacs to serve as clerks, stenographers, cryptanalysts, air mechanics, weather observers, photographers, and telegraph operators. The training for these jobs will be given by the Army Air Forces. By this procedure the enlistees will be allowed to choose the Air Forces for their work in the Army and will be processed accordingly. It is the policy of the WAC to send enlistees to the service commands.

Sunday and Monday, Warren Williams, Eric Blore, Ann Savage and Robert Stanford will be starred in "PASSPORT TO SUEZ."

There will be a double feature on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. "GET ALONG," starring Robert Paige, Vera Vague, Grace McDonald and Walter Catlett. A picture of hilarious romantic mix-ups in present day Washington with plenty of action and music thrown in. Johnny Mack Brown in "SIX GUN GOSPEL," will be the added attraction. A Western thriller to satisfy any Western fan.

of their choice in so far as it is possible. All applicants should take their choice of service upon enlistment, it was pointed out.

Officials stated that in order to sustain our offensives in the war thousands of replacements must be sent to the battlefronts and supply lines must be kept moving. These replacements can be provided adequately only if American women assume non-combatant positions with the Army and thus release fighting men for active duty. The present drive is to accomplish this aim, it was stated.

BRITISH WOMEN GET SPIDER-WEB

Collecting spider-web for the precision sighting instruments is one of the duties performed by women in the British Auxiliary Territorial Service. October spider-web in Great Britain, according to experts, is most suitable for the sighting instruments. The collection requires a delicate touch and a steady hand. The women web collector catches a spider with one hand and drops it from one hand to the other. As the spider falls, it spins a fine web. This strand is attached to a metal frame smeared with shellac, and the frames are stored for future use. When this fine strand is not fine enough, ATS craftswomen split a strand in two under the microscope.

Destructive types of antifreeze for sale, according to ODT, are those compounded with petroleum distillates or with inorganic salts, including calcium or magnesium or sodium chloride (common salt), production of which was stopped last January.

CINCHONA SEEDS TO LATIN AMERICA
Since that day when two million cinchona seeds were snatched from under the noses of the Japanese after the fall of Bataan, in the Philippines, more than 110,000 seedlings grown from these seeds have been shipped to Peru, Ecuador, El Salvador and Nicaragua to start the quinine industry for the Western Hemisphere. When the Japs closed in on Bataan, an American army colonel packed two million seeds in two small cans and set out for Australia in a Flying Fortress. Two Jap planes attacked, but the Fortress reached Port Darwin after dark with one of its motors silenced. From here he took the seeds to General MacArthur's headquarters, thence by boat to San Francisco and by army plane to Washington where he turned them over to the Department of Agriculture.

PARTY LINES are PATRIOTIC LINES

The copper that used to go into new telephone lines is now going into war weapons. This means we must make the most of the lines we now have.

Thus, party lines become a part of the all-out war effort—they take on a new name—PATRIOTIC LINES.

You will find that "Patriotic-line" telephone service is good telephone service if all users will follow these simple rules:

1. If another is using the line, hang up gently and wait a reasonable time before trying again.
2. Make way for your neighbor by being as brief as you can on your calls.
3. Avoid making a number of calls in succession.
4. Replace the receiver carefully after each call so as not to prevent others from using the line.

OF COURSE I CAN CHANGE A FUSE!

BECAUSE of the need to conserve gasoline, tires, and man hours...and because so many of our service men are now in the service of our country...you can contribute to a speedier victory by learning to replace your own blown fuses!

Know where your fuse box is...keep extra fuses of the right size on hand...and change 'em yourself. You can save yourself much inconvenience, and avoid "homemade blackouts".
